No Mass Satyagraha In States

Mahatma Enunciates His "New Technique"

HONOURABLE NEGOTIATIONS WITH RULERS

Mass Constructive Programme Is Minimum Test For "Ahimsa"

TERMS FOR INDIVIDUAL C. D.

BOMBAY, June 4.

Mahatma Gandhi has enunciated his "new Technique" regarding the Indian States, according to his "New Light" in a statement he has just issued on Travancore.

The statement "inter alia" says that the suspension of Mass Civil Disobedience should be indefinite;

There should be the will among the State Congress people to open a way to honourable negotiations with the authorities;

There should be no anxiety about those Satyagrahis, who are in prison or new ones;

If the spirit of Satyagraha is rightly assimilated, these imprisonments and disabilities should hearten the people;

The pitch of the immediate demands should be lowered if necessary, in order to quicken the progress towards the final goal, and that the condition precedent to any civil disobedience is the fulfilment by the general mass of the constructive programme as a test, if nothing more, of their coming under the discipline of the State Congress.

The following is the text of the statement:—

"I have had prolonged conversations with Sjts. Pattam Thanu Pillai, Verghese and J. Philipose over the situation in Travancore. My rich experiences in Rajkot show me that civil disobedience in Travancore was suspended at the right time.

MOTIVE BEHIND SUSPENSION OF C. D.

The Rajkot recantation teaches me that it is not enough to have withdrawn the charges against Sir C. P. Ramaswami. But it is necessary to recognise that Travancoreans have not only to reckon with the Maharaja, but also with his Diwan. I also observe that several Travancorean critics have asserted that suspension has led to greater repression. These critics do not know that suspension was not advised in order to avoid repression, nor even in expectation of its being stopped.

It was advised in order to avoid popular violence, no matter how caused or by whom instigated, if it was instigated. It was also stopped in order to avoid brutalisation of human nature. These two objects may be said to have been attained in a fair measure. It was also suspended, in order to pave the way for an honourable understanding with the authorities and to educate the people in the true way of 'Ahimsa.' These objects have still to be worked for. Here my new light, which I seem to see dimly, enables me to tender advice which, but for the light, I would perhaps not have been able to give with as much confidence as now.

HONOURABLE APPROACH.

I am convinced that direct negotiations should be opened with the authorities. Hitherto, the State Congress people have talked at the authorities and the latter at them. The result has been a widening of the gulf between the two. It would not do for a Satyagrahi to argue that the approach must be mutual. That assumes the existence of the spirit of Satyagraha in the authorities, whereas Satyagraha is offered in respect of those who make no claim to be Satyagrahis.

Hence, the first and the last work of a Satyagrahi is ever to seek an opportunity for an honourable approach. Now this is impossible, so long as the heart is steeled against a belief even in the possibility, let alone advisability, of such approach, and hitherto, the impossibility has been unquestionably assumed.

I have been a tacit party to it. I now know better. If the leaders have active "Ahimsa" in them, they must cultivate a belief in the perfect possibility and necessity of such approach. And if they have that belief, the way will surely be open to them. In my own person, it is well known, I have always acted on that principle. In making such an approach, it would be necessary to lower the key of our note. Our aim must remain what it is, but we must be prepared to negotiate for less than the whole, so long it is unmistakably of the same kind, and has in it inherent possibility of expansion.

I have found that nowhere, with the only exception of Aundh, are the princes ready to part with all the power in favour of the people. Nor is the Paramount Power anxious for the people in the States to receive full responsible Government. If I intrepret its mind correctly, assuming that an institution can have a mind, it would be sorry in any state of importance copied the example of Aundh. But what is most important of all, the States' people themselves as a mass are nowhere prepared to pay the price. There is no mistaking the awakening that has taken place in the States. But it is not enough for the great purpose to be attained.

It will be well to recognise this fact. In aiming beyond our capacity, we are likely to lose all. I would give much to have in all

Where Mahatma Excels

Exalts Ideals And Assumes God As Religion

(From Our Correspondent.)

LONDON, June 4.

To an audience representative of all religion, Sir S. Radhakrishnan delivered an address on Mahatma Gandhi in the Conway Hall, under the auspices of the Hindu Association of Europe.

Sir Radhakrishnan said: "Whereas politicians all over the world assumed Religion as God, Gandhiji assumed God as Religion. Instead of degrading ideals as politicians did, Gandhiji uplifted them.

Unlike Christian politicians, Gandhiji affirmed that no human being was capable of destroying what God created, viz., the soul of man".

Continuing Sir Radhakrishnan said:—

"The three characteristic features of Gandhiji's life are, fearlessness, 'ahimsa' and peace. Thus we realise that Gandhiji is truly the embodiment of God who is undisturbed by fear, violence, or absence of peace. None can destroy this craving located in his heart.

Concluding, Sir Radhakrishnan said: "Gandhiji says we must be simple, and truthful. We must serve life instead of death. I don't think anything like this has ever been taught or said since the world began".

SOVIET REPLY TO ANGLO-FR. PROPOSALS

Guarantee For Baltic States Forms Crux Of Problem

LONDON, June 4.

The Russian reply to the Anglo-French proposals for a Triple Military Alliance, a summary of which was received in London, is encouraging says the "Sunday Times" diplomatic correspondent. He adds that the prospects of an Alliance being successfully concluded are good.

CRUX OF PROBLEM

The correspondent understands that Russia's new formula for Baltic guarantees is that the Three Powers should pledge themselves to lend mutual assistance in the event of any threat, direct or indirect, to the independence of any one of them. The formula has been adapted from that used in the British Guarantee to Poland and implies full guarantee to the Baltic States, without mentioning them by name, since Russia would consider German invasion of any one of these countries as indirect threat to her independence. Moscow could therefore, take action in this eventuality, assured of full co-operation of her allies. It may prove, however, that the British and Russian views as to what constitutes indirect threat to Russian independence do not coincide. Russia would probably like to include within the scope of the formula not only direct invasion of a neighbouring State but also the eventuality of a Baltic State coming under German control by means of pressure exerted from within.

The principle points of alliance as set forth in the Anglo-French proposals are all accepted in the Russian Note, including the exclusion of the Far East from the scope of the agreement.—Reuter.

SOVIET REPLY RECEIVED IN LONDON

Hunt For Formula To Meet Moscow's Conditions

The Soviet reply has been received in London, texts of which were presented to the British and French Ambassadors in Moscow on Friday. The British Government are carefully studying the reply which conforms with the points of M. Molotov's speech last week.

The next move, Reuter understands, is the finding a formula meeting the Soviet condition that Tripartite Guarantees should be given to the Baltic States, although, the latter have made plain that they do not desire guarantees by anyone on the ground that their safety lies in complete neutrality.

The other important points in M. Molotov's speech do not seem to present the same difficulty.

INQUIRY INTO 'THETIS' DISASTER

When Ill-fated Submarine Will Be Brought To Surface

LONDON, June 4.

The Admiralty announces that the salvage of the "Thetis" is proceeding but it may be some time before the vessel can be brought to surface.

Full inquiry will be held as soon as practicable.—Reuter.

England Mourns "Thetis" Victims

LONDON, June 4.

Britain to-day mourned 99 men involved in the "Thetis" disaster. In village churches, cathedrals and on board the warships special prayers were offered. A special signal from the Commander-in-Chief of the Home Fleet, Admiral Sir Charles Forbes, called 30,000 naval ratings to a special Memorial Service on board every ship and all naval shore establishments in Portland. A short religious service was held at the spot where the "Thetis' lies by those who participated in the attempt to save the lives of the crew.

HITLER'S SYMPATHY

Herr Hitler has sent a telegram to the King expressing his sympathy and those of the German people with the disaster to the "Thetis".—Reuter.

King And Queen Express Sympathy

LONDON, June 4.

The King in a cable from Canada states that the Queen and himself are greatly distressed to hear of the "Thetis" disaster and asks Lord Stanhope to convey their deep sympathy to the relatives of the victims.

Queen Mary has also sent a message expressing sympathy with the wives and families of the victims.—Reuter

CALCUTTA, June 4.

At the annual general meeting of the Indian Journalists Association held this evening Mr. Tushar Kanti Ghosh, Editor of the "Amrita Bazar Patrika" was elected President".—United Press.

The conclusion of a purely defensive mutual assistance pact between the three countries is not questioned. It is confidently expected that the form and the extent of immediate effective assistance to be given in the event of aggression on States other than France, Britain and Russia will be satisfactorily settled.

The British Government are not publishing the note.—Reuter.

Hitler's New Game For Colonies

Recalls "Robbery" Of German Possessions

Allied War Aims And Present Encirclement "No Longer Intimidate Us"

BERLIN, June 4.

"I have taken care that all in leading positions will be 100 per cent. soldiers. If I find anyone not up to this expectation, I shall have him removed", declared Herr Hitler addressing an Ex-Service Rally at Cassel, at which leaders of German Army and Navy and Italian, Spanish, Finnish, Bulgarian and Hungarian Generals and the Japanese Ambassador were also present.

ROBBERY OF COLONIES

Declaring that Versailles had revealed that Allied war aims were robbery of German Colonies and destruction of German Navy and trade, Herr Hitler added: "They are the same aims as the Encirclement politicians in Paris and London entertain now. But we no longer suffer from an inferiority complex. We are determined to defend our rights and threats no longer intimidate us".—Reuter.

WAR-GUILT.

Referring to the question of war-guilt Herr Hitler said that Germany's "war-guilt" was that she had frivolously neglected armaments before the war. "If the encirclement policy proves to be the same as before the war, there is one difference to-day as far as Germany is concerned, namely that Germany's policy of defence has fundamentally changed. One change is that the nation is no longer headed by a civilian in a major's uniform (reference to Bethmann Hollweg) but by a simple soldier."

NATION AT HIS BACK.

Herr Hitler added: "I am sure the policy of strengthening our defence has the support of all and the nation must be militarily trained and educated. There must be no doubt that German leaders think as heroically as the German people—as heroically as a simple soldier who, if he gets an order, obeys it even to staking his life for Germany."—Reuter.

Grigg s Estimate Goes 'Phut'

(From Our Correspondent.)

SIMLA, June 4.

Another disappointment is in store for the Finance Department, if the imports of raw cotton fall at the rate disclosed in April of the current year.

Sir James Grigg's anticipation was that by doubling the cotton import duty, he would be able to get rupees 53 lakhs more, and thereby wipe out the deficit of Rs. 50 lakhs shown by the estimates.

He provided under this head for receipts amounting Rs. 135 lakhs in 1939-1940, as against Rs. 82 lakhs in 1938-1939.

FALL IN RECEIPTS

But April figures show an unexpectedly huge fall. The total imports of raw cotton during the month were only 9,393 tons, as against 16,697 tons in April last year.

Receipts from duty in April, despite the doubling of the rate have dwindled to Rs. six and a half lakhs, as against Rs. nine and half lakhs for the corresponding month, last year.

If imports fall at this rate, the Finance Member will not be able to realise even half of the budgeting figure for the year.

Cotton imports from the United States were only 86 tons in April, as against 3,244 tons in April last year. Imports from Kenya have also been reduced to very nearly half.

The explanation given in business circles is that as the doubling of the import duty has removed the margin of protection against. Lancashire for finer counts, Indian mills are curtailing production of finer counts.

STOP PRESS

RIOTING IN JOHANNESBURG

JOHANNESBURG, June 4.

Serious rioting broke out as the result of a controversy regarding the advisability of launching a general Passive Resistance campaign a couple of hours before a meeting of the Transvaal Indian Congress was due to begin. Five Indians were seriously injured in a fracas, which the police had the greatest difficulty in controlling. The meeting was cancelled and the Congress issued an appeal to members of the Indian community to remain calm in these days of crisis and stress".—Reuter.

It is learned now that orders have been passed by the Government that if the Talukdars as superior tenants do not refund the remissions to the tenants, they will not be given assistance under the provisions of the Land Revenue Code in future.

PRIMARY SCHOOL EXPENSES

A dispute has arisen between the Viramgam Municipality and the Ahmedabad District Local Board about the share to be paid by the Municipality in the expenses incurred for the maintenance of the primary schools in Viramgam.

The facts are that since the new Primary Education Act, the management of the primary schools has been transferred to the District Local Board. The Municipality while handing over control, wrote to the Government that they were unwilling to hand over the control, as the schools were efficiently managed by them. It was urged that if the control was to be handed over to the Board, the Municipality would pay only one-third share in the expenses.

The District Local Board demands that half the share should be given by the Municipality, and as the share is not paid as yet, the District Local Board says that the Municipality shall have to pay interest on the amount.

It may be remembered that similar disputes have been arisen in Godhra, Lonavla and other places between the Local Municipalities and the respective District Local Boards.

SUMMER SEVERE IN BARODA

Gaekwar And Dewan For Hill Stations

(From Our Correspondent)
BARODA, May 31.

May is usually very hot in Baroda, and people take resort to hill stations. So social life in Baroda is a bit dull.

His Highness the Maharaja Gaekwar of Baroda is in Ootacamand, Sir V. T. Krishnamachari, the Dewan of Baroda is at Mount Abu, Dr. Pranlal Nanavati Deputy Chief of Medical and Health Department is at Mahableshwar and several other high officials and rich gentries are out of Baroda. Baroda is expected to hum with activities in the next week of June.

The City Municipal elections are coming up in the middle of June and keen contest is expected. The Prajamandal has put up its own candidates, while many more are standing for elections, independently.

SIDHPUR RIOTS

Baroda State is normally very quiet and the relations between various groups and communities are always cordial. A fracas which occurred between Hindus and Muslims at Sidhpur has resulted in injuries to about 22 persons. It was first learnt that situation was under control, but later on, the situation became tense and police help, being requistioned, was sent yesterday from Baroda.

Major Aquino, the Police Commissioner and Mr. S. V. Mukerjea, the Revenue Commissioner, have rushed to the spot. Curfew Order has been entered by the local authorities. Officials are trying their best to restore peace. The local intelligentia think that such communal bickerings should be nipped in the bud with a strong hand. The latest report shows that the situation is under complete control.

The Vallabhbhai Patel Disturbances Inquiry Committee, which has commenced work from 15th May 1939, is going on and the recording officers, Messrs. Kamtekar and Anjaria recorded depositions of 15 more witnesses from 22nd to 27th May. The enquiry is neither open to the Press or the public, and the information office is issuing weekly communiques.

Sir V. T. Krishnamachari, the Dewan of Baroda, is expected here in the second week of June. He leaves Mount Abu for Rajkot, and after visiting Jamnagar and Okhamandal comes back to Baroda.

Mr. A. C. Mukherjea, Director of Statictics, has been appointed Insurance Officer for Baroda State, as the Government have introduced a scheme of compulsory insurance for State servants.

GRADING OF ALPHONSO MANGOES

It is well known that the alphonso mango is considered to be the king of fruits. Best mangoes of this variety are produced in the areas situated along the west coast of this Province. An attempt is being made by the Provincial Marketing Officer, Poona, to systematise the marketing of this fruit by fixing standard grades for it and by issuing "Agmark" lables of different colours to the consignors, to indicate different grades. Mr. H. C. Javaraya, Senior Marketing Officer, Delhi, and Mr. B. P. Deshpande, Assistant Marketing Officer, Poona, recently visited Ratnagiri for fixing these grades and to persuade the consignors to grade their alphonso mangoes according to these experimental grades, and also to show them the use of the lables issued by the Agricultural Marketing Adviser to Government of India, Delhi. A centre for the work has already been started at Ratnagiri with the help of funds promised by the Collector of that district. It is expected that the supply of pakages of graded alphonso mangoes will begin to increase during the course of the next few weeks. These mangoes are sorted out into two quality grades, viz., "Fancy" and "Commercial", and each of these two grades is sub-divided into five size grades, according to the weight of the mangoes. The consumers in Bombay will thus be able to get their supply of alphonso mangoes of the required quality and size, if they will try to ask for packages of graded alphonso, bearing "Agmark" lables in the Crawford Market. The Provincial Marketing Officer, Bombay Province, Poona, will also be able to supply the names and addresses of the consignors of graded alphonso mangoes, if the consumers desire to get into touch with them directly.—Public Information Series.

After discussion with the various interests involved Government has also decided that 80 per cent. of the risk to be covered should be insured with the Indian Insurance Companies Association Pool under policies based on the joint and several liabilities of the Companies which are members of the Pool and the remaining 20 per cent. should be insured with the New Indian Assurance Company Limited on its sole liability.—Public information Series.

PROHIBITION IN U. P. DISTRICTS

Second Year Starts With Reduced Excise Staff

LUCKNOW, June 4.

The second year of prohibition has started with reduced excise staff, states a Press Note issued by the U. P. Government on the working of prohibition in Etah and Mainpuri districts during April 1939.

The Note points out that as against six inspectors and 48 peons, there are now only four excise inspectors and 24 peons.

In Etah district the policy of renewing permits was stiffened during the period. In renewing the permits care was, however, taken to reduce the ration substantially in nearly every case by 25 to 50 per cent., while in foreign liquors specially the number of quart bottles allowed was cut down by half.

One noteworthy feature in this connection was, the Note says, that except in a few cases the opium and charas addicts seem to have been prepared for reduced quantities and hence raised no objections.

In Mainpuri district, 34 cases were disposed of during April, all ending in conviction. Illicit distillation or illegal possession of liquor, the Note says, is definitely under a salutory check, but illicit smuggling of charas is suspected and steps are being taken to check it more effectively.

Temperance propaganda was carried on as usual by the District Board schools and the Excise Inspectors, while the musician preacher also toured in quite a good number of villages.—United Press.

Girl Scouters Training Camp

The Hindustan Scout Association, Bombay Province held its first Training Camp for Bombay Girl Scouters from the 13th to the 23rd of May at Malad. The Camp was in the charge of Mrs. L. V. S. Velinkar, Joint Secretary of the Girl Scout section of the Bombay Provincial Headquarters. A great part of the work of the Camp was looked after by Mrs. S. M. Desai who was assisted by Mr. S. M. Desai, Assistant Organising Commissioner deputed by the Provincial Headquarters to help in instructions and looking after the Camp requirements. The Provincial Commissioner, Prof. V. G. Rao, paid a visit to the Camp and expressed his appreciation of the very good arrangements. Mrs. M. Malandkar, Organiser of the Bombay Municipal Girl Scouts, very kindly paid several visits to the Camp and helped in the instructional work.

Practically all the subjects relating to the First Class tests in the Girl Scout syllabus were dealt with. The talks included subjects like Flock and Troop organisation and management, Patrol system, village uplift, slum work, etc. Mr. Jeshbhai of the Adarsha Dairy Farm gave an interesting and instructive talk on food values of milk and infant feeding.

Most of the campers were new to this kind of life, but they acquitted themselves very well and profited by their stay in camp. On the whole, the camp was a very good success terminating in an investiture ceremony.

Tragic Sequel To Khaksar Demonstration

PESHAWAR, June 4.

One person was killed and thirteen including some children injured as a result of a bomb explosion yesterday when a rally of Khaksar volunteers was being held in the village of Shei Khan, ten miles from here.

It is stated that a platoon of Khaksar volunteers were touring round some villages yesterday, their flag day, when Khaksar flags were hoisted over the houses of their leaders. On their arrival in the village of Shei Khan they were received by the local Khaksars who fired country-made bombs in their honour.

One of the bombs which contained iron strips and was of powerful nature exploded injuri[illegible] who were saluting their flag, and some onlookers. One of the injured persons later died, and the rest were rushed to hospital where four are lying in a precarious condition.

The police proceeded to the spot to make investigation. Some arrests are reported to have been made.—United Press.

Woman Tells Tale Of Horror

Mobbed, Insulted Stoned And Kicked In Limbdi Streets: Goonda Raj In Excelsis

(From Our Correspondent)

RAJKOT, June 3.

The horrors of goondaism in Limbdi have been well known to the general public. Despite suspension of Satyagraha and clearing the air of hostility in the State, there comes a fresh incident of ruthless goondaism from Limbdi. Following extracts from a solemnly attested affidavit in Gujarati of Bai Chanchal Waghji, a Brahmin widow aged 48 years, and an inhabitant of Shiana (a village in Limbdi State) tell their own tale.

In her affidavit made at Wadhwan-Camp dated 1-6-1939, Bhai Chanchal states:—"On 29th May I left Shiani for the village Mojidad by motor bus which goes via Limbdi. As there was six-hours' interval for the bus bound for Mojidad, in Limbdi, I set out to go to the house of an acquaintance. On my way, I came across about half a dozen Brahmin boys. They began to make vulgar jokes and asked me unbecoming questions. As I tried to proceed further, they began to throw dust and stones at me. As I proceeded further, the crowd became larger, and they all joined in throwing stones at me. If I attempted to sit down, they were beating me. Then they caught hold of me by the neck and tried to drag me towards the bazar. Thus they forced me to go through some streets and all the while, the crowd which was now numbering about 400 to 500, was pouring vulgar abuses and beating and kicking me.

After a while dirty rags etc. were inserted around my neck. All this while, I was treated as if I were a mad woman. Near the house of Jatashanker, Bhavanishanker Shastri met us, and when he asked the mob to disperse, he was told, that he should mind his own business, or else he will have to suffer grave consequences, so saying, the ring leaders of the mob pushed him aside by force.

Later on, we met Ben Rukmani Prabhashanker Acharya, who also was horrified to see the treatment meted out to me. She prayed with folded hands to set me free, but was warned to mind her own business, or else she would be made to pay heavily for the intervention being herself a woman she went away. I was then told to take the route for Ashram, via Green-chowk and English school. In the corner near the school, my Sari and blouse were torn to pieces. Not satisfied with this, more stones were being thrown. I was pulled by neck and brought to squat on the ground. Some of them were vulgarly tearing off buttons of my blouse and were trifling with my modesty. I was again brought to Green-chowk. Here, I ran for protection towards the nearby police gate, and having no strength left, I collapsed on the steps. When I was praying for shelter to the policeman on duty, one person from the mob whispered something in the ears of the policeman, whereupon he told me, 'come on I shall escort you safely'. Being assured of protection, I followed the policeman, who suddenly retreated leaving me alone in the midst of the mob.

The mob now began to push me and some persons as if pushed from behind began to fall on me. When I was thus led near the shop of tailor Popat, who hails from my village, I ran for my life to take shelter there, but the mob threatened Popat to refrain from sheltering me, otherwise he himself would be the target of their attack. Popat also got afraid and asked me to quit his shop. After going a little more distance, Shree Jagjivan Ujamshi Talsania was seen coming from the opposite direction. (Mr. Talsania, is a leading merchant from Limbdi. On behalf of the State, he has been trying to impress upon the Hijratis to return back to Limbdi. He has been assuring that the State will not harm anyone. Is this the guarantee given by him?).

Despite opposition and strong protest from the mob, Jagjivan Talsania took me to his house. Here, the mob continued shouting, 'Boycott' and various other things.

Stones were thrown on the house of Talsania and several window glasses were broken thereby. I have recognised several persons from the mob, as for others, I can identify many of them. (Several names have been mentioned here). At Talsania's place Durgashanker Acharya had come and asked me, as to why I took part in Prajamandal activities. He advised me to stick to my home from now on. Thereafter I became unconscious. After I regained consciousness two police constables escorted me to the bus for Shiani."

At Shiani also immense trouble was in store for me. (She has described at length her heart-rendering sufferings at Shiani. However summary is given hereunder.)

Her aged mother, and uncle, who is over 75 years of age, were also manhandled, and she was again subjected to some process of beating and kicking as done in Limbdi. She was then thrown in a pit of mud and dirt and all the while stones were pouring like smart shower of rain. Being physically unable to stand further attack and after vomiting blood more than thrice, she was crawling towards a well, being unable to walk, to commit suicide. The mob having now realised that there will be serious consequences, began to disperse. She was then allowed to hire a cart and go away in half unconscious condition.

Several State servants and ring leaders from the mob have been named in the affidavit.

REFORMS IN SITAMAU

Popular Assents Inaugurated

AGRA, May 30.

Sitamau is a small State in Central India on the borders of Gwalior and Indore states. But it is fortunate in having an educated and well qualified heir apparent prince. He along with his father, the Maharaja of Sitamau, drafted a constitution for the State Assembly and gave every powers and responsibilities to the elected members of the Parishad. A Franchise committee was appointed and the elections were held and the first meeting of the Assembly was held on 21st May. Several responsible persons of other States were present, as it was the first State in Central India to make a change in old rules. Maharaj Kumar Raghuvir Singh presided.

The President read out to the members of the message of His Highness in which he said it is very essential that the members should realise their great responsibilities and use their rights for the welfare of the State and people of the State. He further said the future of the State depended very much on the success of the present reforms. He presented to the Assembly a gold rod and the sword.

MOGAVEERA FREE NIGHT SCHOOL

Dr. Rao's Tribute To Work Of Institute

Presiding over the 36th anniversary of the Mogaveera Vyavasthapaka Mandali and the prize distribution of their Free Night School at the Sir Cowasji Jehangir Public Hall, on Sunday last, Dr. V. K. R. V. Rao, Principal, S. L. D. Arts College, Ahmedabad, deplored the illiteracy in India and pointed out how Government were unable to provide adequate help for the removal of same, unless organised private enterprises like the Mogaveera Vyavasthapaka Mandali co-operated in their effort. Mogaveera Free Night School where Kannada is also encouraged, is one of the largest Night Schools in Bombay and it has turned out over 4,000 children during the last sixteen years.

Referring to the backwardness of Karnataka, Dr. Rao pointed out that it was also due to Karnatak women being uneducated and urged that efforts should, therefore, be made to start schools for girls. Further, he invited the support of Mogaveeras for the Karnataka Unification movement as they belonged to Karnatak. Dr. Rao appealed to the Government of Bombay to help the Mandali with substantial grant.

The occasion was also marked with the presentation of an address in silver casket, to Mr. C. A. Master, one of the oldest members of the Mandali on the eve of his retirement.

Swami Sambhuddanandji of the Ramkrishna Mission, addressed the gathering on the cultural life of Indians and Dr. S. G. Mandre, Dr. M. R. Shetty, Mr. K. N. Gaitonde and Dr. Bengers also spoke on the occasion.

Sangeetha Vidwan G. Anandarao and troupe gave a display of the Karnataka music and dance.

KAPURTHALA PLAN TO CHECK PEOPLE'S MOVEMENT

"Vigilance And Conciliation Boards" To Be Constituted

KAPURTHALA, June 3

In a "communique" explaining the desirability of appointing "Vigilance and Conciliation Boards" in the State, the Chief Minister says:—

"With a view to check and control the nefarious and subversive activities of political nature and communal tension, and actuated by a genuine desire to develop and maintain harmony and friendly relations between the various communities 'inter se' within His Highness' territories, I consider it very desirable and necessary to constitute and establish "Vigilance and Conciliation Boards" at important centres in the State such as Kapurthala, Fattudhinga, Dhaliwal, Bet, Sidhwan, Kala, Phagwara, Hadiabad, Panchhat, Bholath, Begowal, Dhilwan, Sultanpur, Alditta, Tibba, Bhunga and Dhat Kalan.

The precise functions of these boards will be defined later, but as at present advised, I am of the opinion that it should be within their province 'inter alia' to (1) keep vigilant watch over all activities calculated to excite or embitter communal feelings or to create stir or commotion or agitation of a political nature; (2) report to the Sadar as soon as activities enumerated in the preceding para come within their knowledge; (3) take such steps as may be possible to check and control such activities forthwith; (4) inculcate friendly and brotherly relations between the various communities 'inter se'; (5) act as conciliation boards for the purpose of settling communal and other differences between the various communities; and (5) help the authorities in the maintenance of law and order."—United Press

HARWOOD LEAGUE

Caltex Lucky To Draw

Cohen Baulks S. Kanara Of Victory

South Kanara were distinctly unlucky to drop a point to Caltex—in their Harwood Senior League encounter last evening—on the Cooperage ground.

IT'S COHEN AGAIN!

'Unlucky'—because if they had scored half a dozen times it would have still correctly indexed the run of play—such was the difference between the respective merits of the two teams. That the Kanarese weren't able to register even a single goal was simply the natural culmination of another sixty-minutes' flawless goal-keeping by Cohen.

After an initial ten minutes', more-or-less even, spell of scrappy midfield exchanges—South Kanara, were the first to 'get going'. Connecting perfectly with an accurate pivotal pass Kookra ran down in fine style and finding Maartensz and Wilson chose on his track, swung the ball on to Kanchan who tested Cohen with a rather indifferent straight drive which the latter easily smothered.

OUT FOR EARLY LEAD

Obviously aware of the psychological possibilities of an early lead the Kanarese continued to force the pace—and for the next quarter of an hour Caltex had to bank exclusively on their never-failing custodian. This potential ace-performer—whose recent form could positively gain him admission to any representative 'class' side in the country—is a definite acquisition to Bombay soccer. The effortless mechanical manner in which he soon stepped into his stride—again last evening made it amply clear that South Kanara in spite of their impressive opening were not going to have things very much after their own heart.

'SLEEPY' FORWARDS

Gathering shot after shot in flawless style—Cohen virtually robbed the Kanarese of a substantial half-time lead—which on the run of play the latter would certainly have deserved; and a blank recess sheet is nothing if not a tribute to his thirty minutes of uncanny custodianship. As far as the Caltex quintette were concerned—the whole of the earlier period had been a half-hour's undisturbed sleep! Gone was all the grit and enterprise which had carried the day for them, only a few days back, against the Senior League leaders—the Royal Artillery—and instead we noticed a certain sluggishness about their front-liners—even the usually impetuous Karunakar playing in a singularly subdued vein.

GREAT DEFENCE

The Caltex defence, however, particularly, Wilson and Telang played a great game—and it was a treat to watch them bring in marvellous powers of anticipation and 'tackling' to break up surge after surge by the Kanarese quintette—who had to cross over very much disillusioned. The latter half, was a less 'uneventful' repetition of its predecessor.

S. KANARA DESERVED FULL POINTS

The Kanarese attacks were now launched with more regularity and greater gusto—and Cohen was hard put to—to prevent things from taking a definite shape—Bangera, Kanchan, Prabhakar and Kookra—all trying their luck with the net—but the 'goalie of the season' stood up bravely to them all—and when a free-kick—awarded just outside the ring—magnificently taken by Mandon found itself 'gloriously' smothered by a super safe 'lightning-like' pair of hands—expectations of a definite result began to recede—and ultimately faded out—a couple of minutes later, with the final whistle which found Caltex extremely lucky sharers of points—which on the evening's play were South Kanara's legitimate due—after conceding Cohen all honours for another fine display of sound custodianship.

W. INDIES PLAYERS' SUPERB GAME

Davies' 421 In Two Consecutive Innings

LONDON, June 3.

The West Indies' Cricketers enjoy the hot and sunny weather which prevailed to-day. Batting first in their three-day fixture against Middlesex, they ran up a colossal total of 491 runs for 3 wickets by the time stumps were drawn for the day.

Headley, the "Black Bradman," treated the spectators to a delightful exhibition of cricket, collecting 227 runs. With Stollmeyer, who scored 117 runs, he added 216 runs for the second wicket. Stollmeyer played a grand innings, powerful drives and hits to leg being a feature of his stay at the wicket. He batted in all for 210 minutes and hit 11 fours.

Headley was more versatile and scored his first century in 163 minutes.

Headley and Sealey, who were associated in a big third-wicket partnership, added 213 runs between them. Sealey hit one six and 12 fours in his stay of two hours. Headley, who hit 23 fours, was superb and he was particularly strong in front of the wicket. He was at the wicket for five hours.

Gimblett scored his fifth century to-day and his score, which occupied him for 155 minutes, included two sixes and 17 fours.

Sussex batsmen were guilty of faulty timing on a hard pitch. The best display was given by Nye who coming at the tail-end scored fourteen. He made a fine cover-drive. Kent passed the Sussex total without loss. Paynter in piling up his seventh double century displayed strong driving and confident pulling. He was missed thrice. Batting for 310 minutes, and hitting 26 fours, he was concerned in three century partnership, with Iddon, Oldfield and Nutter.

Emrys, Davies and Brierley added 206 runs in 150 minutes for Glamorgan, which is a second wicket record. Davies was at the wicket for 150 minutes during which he made four sixes and 12 fours. He has scored 421 in two consecutive innings. Brierley in 130 minutes hit up one six and 16 fours. Chalk played freely and executed delightful drives and cuts in an innings lasting 250 minutes. RADICAL CONGRESSMEN'S CONFERENCE

Maharashtra Leftists To Organise

(From Our Correspondent)
POONA, June 4.

A conference of the Radical Congressmen of Maharashtra was held here during the weekend, under the presidency of Mr. B. R. Sunthankar, of Belgaum. About 150 representatives from all over Maharashtra attended.

Mr. V. V. Karnik, explaining the object of the conference contended that the present Congress leadership tended more towards compromise with Imperialism, and it was necessary, therefore, to evolve a revolutionary leadership, instead of the present reactionary one.

CONFERENCE DECISIONS

The Conference adopted a number of resolutions including one stressing the need of creating an alternative leadership in the Congress. Another resolution suggested amendments of Congress constitution with a view to run the organisation on perfect democratic lines. A third resolution offered felicitations to Sjt. Subhas Chandra Bose for starting the "Forward Bloc" by organising the Leftists in the Congress. A resolution on States Subjects, which was adopted by the Conference regretted Gandhiji's policy in regard to Rajkot movement and expressed dissatisfaction for suspension of movement in States.

After the Conference was over, a number of Leftists met together to consider the question of unity among various sections in the Leftists in Maharashtra, and appointed a committee to consider the question.

Income-Tax Ready Reckoner

To facilitate the deduction of income-tax in accordance with the amended law and to obviate any possible hardship, the Central Board of Revenue, Government of India, is publishing a ready reckoner entitled "Income-tax Ready Reckoner under the Slab System," which shows the amount of income-tax, both yearly and monthly, on incomes ranging from Rs. 2,001 to Rs. 25,000 and the average rate of tax on them. Income-tax and super-tax on some typical figures of income above Rs. 25,000 will also be shown.

The Indian Finance Act, 1939, has changed the system of income-tax rates which now follows the system in force for super-tax. The adoption of the new system, called the Slab System, and the obligation imposed by Section 18 of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, as recently amended, upon any person responsible for paying any income chargealbe under the head "salaries" to deduct income-tax at a rate representing the average of the rates applicable to the estimated total income of an assessee, make it necessary for the disbursing officers to make somewhat elaborate calculations to arrive at the amount of tax to be deducted every month after allowing for rebates on life insurance premiums, General Provident Fund Contributions, etc. The Ready Reckoner will provide a short cut for these calculations.—Public Information Series.

PLIGHT OF LIMBDI BUSINESSMEN

Indian Chamber's Appeal To State Authorities

Mr. J. K. Mehta, Secretary, the Indian Merchants' Chamber writing to the Dewan of Limbdi State says:—

It has come to the knowledge of the Committee of this Chamber that some time ago a large number of business people of Limodi have suddenly left their place of business and their residences in the Limbdi State and gone to the neighbouring States or the British territories on a "hijrat." Several of these businessmen are connected with or have business relations in the City of Bombay. This Chamber, consisting as it does of business people and with its objective of safeguarding the interests of businessmen, has been deeply concerned with the condition of these people. My Committee are not concerned with any political issues on which there might be any differences of opinion between the State and these businessmen. In all the Indian States, if my Committee may presume to bring it to your notice, the Mahajans were, once upon a time, trusted of the rulers, and were the props and pillars of the States. That such Mahajans should, as a whole, make a "hijrat" and go out of the State, bespeaks that they must have got some grievances, as otherwise with their traditions and conventions, they would not leave their places of residence, their property and their business connections and go away to other territories.

My Committee are informed that a duty of one anna in the Rupee was levied on all goods which were taken or attempted to be taken away from the State; that some property was taken away on payment of such a duty, and that recently the State has prohibited property being taken away even on payment of such an export duty. This will inflict, if it is true, untold hardships on the merchants and traders, and they will be entirely ruined.

Under the circumstances, my Committee beg to request you to be pleased to arrange that any merchants or traders, who want to take away their property, will be allowed to do so on payment of the export cess, without any difficulty or interference either from the State authorities or from any private individuals. My Committee hope that in the general interests of trade and industries, the Limbdi State will be pleased to issue orders accordingly.

Charagdin & Sons And Tailors' Union

In reply to the statement issued by the above firm on 3rd June in "Bombay Chronicle" the Secretary, Strike Committee writes:

According to the agreement wages were to be paid on 15th of every month. Messrs. Chragdin and Sons failed to do so on 15th November 1938. The workers struk work and laid two demands: (1) immediate payment, (2) firm promise that no worker would be turned out in the monsoon. Mr. Iftikhar, the proprietor agreed. A worker was served with a notice to terminate his service in December, the workers did not object as it was not monsoon time. In May 1939 they served notices on two workers which was objected because the monsoon was ahead. The promise was brought to the notice of both Mr. Charagdin and his son Mr. Iftikhar. They did not pay any heed. They were reminded by a letter in writing, still they cared nothing. They were requested to refer the matter to the Enquiry Committee composed of Association members and Union members. They did not care a bit for it. Workers waited for three days and as nothing was done they started picketing. Workers are prepared to refer the matter to an Enquiry Committee. As regards the matter of alleged assault on loyal workers the matter is 'sub judice' and the judgment of the Court will decide. The strike is peaceful.

From the time of agreement the following breaches have been committed by this firm:—

1. No separate man to make the iron hot is kept so far.
2. Wages of workers are cut for Sunday if they happened to remain absent on previous Saturday or the following Monday.
3. Workers wages are cut for Id day when they remained absent on the following day.

The very fact that Messrs Charagdin and Sons are unwilling to refer the matter to the Enquiry Committee will be the best guide to the readers.

Socialists And 'Forward Bloc'

They Cancel One Another, Argues Dr. Pattabhi

MASULIPATAM, June 3.

Dr. Pattabhai Seetharamayya, President of the Andhra Provincial Congress and member of the Congress Working Committee, has issued the following through the "United Press":

The Forward Bloc is not only a fine phrase but is also what is called in Hindustani an "ism ba musamma", i.e., a name which means what it implies. In other words, the 'Forward Bloc' is the forward section of the caravan. After all, in all caravans, some must lead the rear. All cannot be in the van, nor all in the rear. Van or rear of the caravan; the caravan is the same; its direction of march is the same; its destination is the same. Only there is a competition in the caravan for the van as against the rear or centre.

DIFFERENCE OF DEGREE

"If this is all the position of the Forward Bloc there is not much to arrest attention. If the Forward Bloc had said: "You move forwards East, I march towards West or South or South East, we can understand the difference. If the Forward Bloc had said 'Let us resign the Ministries and go ahead with six months notice we could also understand it. But if the Forward Bloc says 'We accept the Congress creed, and the Congress programme, but want to gallop where the rest canters or canter where the rest trots or trot where the rest walk, the difference reduces itself to one of degree and not kind, one of speed, not of direction.

"And in regard to speed and degree, we know how we have marched in the past. How did the salt satyagraha suddenly developed into a cataclysm in nature like a cyclone from the high Seas. When conditions were ripe, satyagraha like a strom enveloped the country. You must have faith in the ideal. To those who have no faith, their logic does not carry conviction.

STEERING WHEEL

"After all, we are asked to have faith in a movement which has been weighed in the balance and not found wanting. Yet a movement whose potentialities and programme of work are to be chalked out not by a chart and compass, but sensed as by a motor driver driving in a fog. He sees the next 10 yards or 20 and as he passes along, he continues to see his path. Those around and aside of him are worried because their vision does not help them to see it. It is the steering wheel in the hand that helps the driver to see. The absence of it blinds it.

"There are two sections in the country i.e., the Socialists who accept Gandhiji's lead but do not accept the Congress programme, and the Forward Bloc accepts Gandhian creed and programme but do not accept Gandhiji's lead. They cancel one another and the Backward Bloc remains intact."—United Press.

Kher Deplores Suspicion Of Well-wishers Of Harijans

RAMESHWARI NEHRU ON UPHILL TASK OF ENDING DISCRIMINATION

POONA, June 4.

"It is a deep pity that our endeavours are looked upon with suspicion by those for whose benefit we intend them. They do not give us the credit for being as dissatisfied with the present state of affairs and social injustice as they themselves are, they attribute motives, political and economic. They do not believe that behind the activities of the Harijan Sevak Sangh and similar associations there is a pure and selfless desire to remove injustice and render unselfish service", said the Hon. Mr. B. G. Kher, Prime Minister of Bombay, inaugurating the Western Central India Harijan Sevak Conference this evening.

WANTED DEEDS NOT WORDS

Mr. Kher added: "But we must be patient with our Harijan brethren, outlive their suspicion and not blame them for entertaining misgivings. I think their attitude is natural and almost, if not quite, justifiable. They are bound to be impatient, it is they who suffer the humiliations and indignities which the caste-Hindus inflict over them and as our practices and professions do not coincide, they think we are not sufficiently earnest. We can only answer them by our deeds and not by words".

GOVT. MEASURES

Proceeding Mr. Kher enumerated the measures adopted by the Bombay Government to remove the disabilities of the Harijans by way of admission to public resorts, unrestricted use of public amenities, educational facilities, housing arrangements, recruitment to public services and representation in local bodies, removal of disabilities of temple worship, etc. Mr. Kher also pointed out the stringent steps taken by Government to prevent obstruction of Harijans enjoying civic rights. The grants for education for Scheduled Classes had been increased to Rs. 91,584 in 1939-40 as compared with Rs. 55,000 in 1937-38. The Premier also referred to the Bill, which had been introduced in the Bombay Legislative Assembly by the removal of the Civil Disabilities of Harijans.

Mr. Kher declared: "It is now only a question of time. I have no hesitation in saying that in course of the next few years untouchability as recognised part of Hindu custom will disappear at least from my Province."

Mrs. Rameshwari Nehru presided over the Conference.

AN UPHILL TASK

"The real task before us is to convert the hearts of every man and woman in this country and carve a place in them for Harijans. The spirit of discrimination between the high and the low is to be uprooted. This is an uphill task", said Mrs. Rameshwari Nehru.

Mrs Nehru added that without such conversion of the hearts of the people lakhs of rupees spent by the Harijan Sevak Sangh for uplift work and hundreds of schools opened and scholarships given as well as provided for Harijans would be of little avail.

Among those who attended the Conference were the Hon. Mr. Latthe and the Hon. Mr. Morarji Desai, Ministers of the Bombay Government and the Hon. Mr. G. V. Mavlankar, Speaker of the Bombay Assembly, while messages including one from Gandhiji were read at the Conference wishing it success.—A.P.

CONGRESS CONSTITUTION

That the Congress Constitution Sub-Committee has received about three hundred recommendations from various Congress Committees shows how deeply Congressmen are impressed by the urgent need for a radical revision of the Congress Constitution. The need arises, on the one hand, from the numerous instances of Congressmen misusing the constitution for personal ends and, on the other, from the fact that the Congress has soon to resume the intensive struggle for freedom and, therefore, needs exemplary discipline in its own organisation. It is true that a mere change in the constitution will not banish the malpractices from the Congress. But sound changes can certainly reduce their extent. It is not, however, easy to say for certain which changes will be most helpful. Hence the need for a strong special Committee for the purpose; and with men like Babu Rajendra Prasad, Pandit Jawaharlal Dr. Pattabi, Acharya Narendra Dev and Acharya Kripalani to work on it, the Committee may be trusted to make sound recommendations.

Root Causes

The task of the Committee will be appreciably simpler if attention is fixed on the root causes of the present troubles. One root cause is, as we have suggested before, the temptation of ambitious Congressmen to make their position in the Congress a means to capture positions in the legislatures and local bodies controlled by the Congress. Gandhiji himself has suggested as a corrective to this tendency that no one Congressman should hold too many elective positions. We have wholeheartedly supported this suggestion and so have many Congress Committees and individuals. We trust the Constitution Committee will substantially adopt the principle of the suggestion and work out its details in a practicable manner. Another way to cut at the very root of the troubles is to entrust the work of holding elections, disposing of election disputes, checking membership rolls etc. to special standing Committees or officers who do not change annually with the Congress executive committees and who are not connected with party politics. Pandit Jawaharlal has pointed out that to some extent this practice has been followed in the United Provinces for some years past. It may well be extended to other provinces in the light of experience gained so far.

No Ban On Parties

Among the various miscellaneous suggestions made to improve the discipline in the Congress is the proposal that there should be no parties or groups in the Congress. In so far as the proposal is a wish that there should be no party conflict in the Congress at a time when the Congress is engaged in a struggle for freedom which everyone seeks, it is certainly well-meant and laudable. But if it is suggested that the Congress should put a ban on all sectional parties or blocs, the proposal is utterly unworkable, and in some respects it may be worse than the disease it seeks to cure. In effect it will mean that at any particular time the party in power will try to destroy all other parties and to perpetuate its own majority. The Congress will then be only a one-party organisation, and the tendency will always be, and to a much larger extent than it is now, for each party to be intolerant towards others rather than to co-operate with them. The proposal suggested is not only unworkable, it is also undesirable. Different views on political controversies are natural under freedom of thought and expression, and often enough we have been told by the greatest Congress leaders that this is a healthy sign so long as the liberty of thought is not carried to the extent of active defiance of Congress mandates. Such defiance is being remedied by appropriate disciplinary action. But to go further and ban the very existence of opposition parties or groups in the Congress is bad for all, even for the party in power. We trust the Constitution Committee will turn down the proposal in question and make out a strong case against it in its report.

Crisis In South Africa

The Anti-Asiatics Bill has passed its third reading in the South African Assembly without a division and will in all probability receive the Governor-General's assent and be straightway enforced against Indians and other Asiatics alike. Dr. Malan's speech on the third reading of the Bill was utterly unconciliatory and defiant of Indians' opposition to the measure. His references even to the Government of India were far from cordial. Referring, for instance, to the Government of India's representation that the Indians in South Africa are born in the country and entitled to full citizenship, Dr. Malan said that if the argument were valid, the Government of India's representation itself "was an unjustifiable interference by one Government in the affairs of another". The Government of India have to intervene because very few Europeans in the South African Assembly except Mr. Hofmeyr have attempted to safeguard Indians' interests, and their intervention is thoroughly justifiable. But, evidently, the South African Government are in no mood to listen to reason and want to make their scheme of segregation a trial of strength. Be it so. If the Indians are sufficiently united, and if the Government of India are firm enough in safeguarding their interests, the Union Government will not be long in seeking an amicable settlement.

A Great Victory

The Chinese have now definitely got the upper hand in their grim struggle with the aggressor. Their guerrillas have converted the territorial conquests of the Japanese into worse than pyrrhic victories. And their regular armies have not only defeated the most elaborate of Japanese plans but have actually assumed a general offensive in Hupeh themselves. The offensive is succeeding even beyond expectations, for the Japanese have suffered in their rout heavy losses both in men and munition. The capture of arms, ammunition and field guns is the crowning victory since, thanks to the step-brotherly conduct of friendly Powers, it is resources that the Chinese need. The situation has now definitely turned and, although the journey is yet long and terrible, the Chinese, it is safe to assume, are on the way to the final goal. Meanwhile it is interesting to note that simultaneously with conference between British and Japanese Naval Commanders-in-Chief on a number of most important issues, the Japanese continue to attack and fire on British steamers.

I Cover The Town

By D. F. Karaka

In town this week is a galaxy of Congress talent. In addition to the Mahatma, there are Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru and Babu Rajendra Prasad. There are two important committees at work—the Constitution Committee and the Planning Committee.

* * * *

I was present at the interview the Pandit gave to the journalists. He was in good form and in good humour. The more I see of the Pandit, the more I realise the value of the man. He has charm and dignity and character. Courtesy and tact are also among his acquirements. He instinctively commands respect.

* * * *

Perhaps more than any other person in the Congress, the Pandit is very well informed about world events. His recent trip to Europe, his continual study of Foreign Affairs, gives him a grasp over world events, which are fast changing.

* * * *

He is not a pacifist. But he does not, therefore, approve of war. He takes the more practical view that there are times when war becomes inevitable. He would deprecate Indian participation in a European war, if such participation is thrust on this country by Imperial Britain. On the other hand, if the next European war should be a world conflagration between pure democracy on the one side and Fascism on the other, the Pandit can visualise the theoretical possibility of Indian joining in the war, it only to prevent a Fascist domination of the world. But it would be a condition precedent to such participation that India should be a free democracy. Otherwise its position would be ironical.

* * * *

The Pandit was asked whether it would be possible to alter the Congress Constitution and instead of the present office of President of the Congress create two offices—that of a President who would control broad questions of policy and that of a Chairman of the All-India Congress Committee, who would shoulder much of the routine, which now falls on the President. It was a novel idea, the Pandit said, which he had not yet considered. I venture to suggest that it is worthy of the consideration of the Mahatma and the Congress High Command. If there was this division of labour, it would make it possible for older men to take on the office of President, without apprehension of being unable to face the task. Also, it is humbly suggested that the office of President should be for three to five years, while that of the Chairman should be an annual affair.

* * * *

I always feel so much at home in the presence of this great gentleman. He never lets you feel that you are a raw, callous youth even though he may know you are. He treats the young men of my generation as grown-up. Perhaps he knows that we are, after all, the men of to-morrow.

* * * *

I would have ventured to describe the Pandit in greater detail, but I have to be careful in my descriptions these days, when some of our readers won't let me talk about shirts. How, I wish, some of those people, who rush to print on this question of shirts were to spend a few years in Berlin or Rome, where the colour of your shirt may decide your destiny. A red shirt, a black shirt, a brown shirt—on that depends a man's future. And they tell me, they are not interested in shirts!

Misuse Of Muslim Hall

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—It is regrettable that a Muslim Hall of standing like the Muzaffarabad Hall should be utilised for a dinner where wines and spirits are going to be served.

The religious Muslims in charge of this Hall cannot be aware of this fact. So if it is brought to their notice they will not allow the Hall to be improperly used.

Islam's hatred of intoxicating drinks is a well-known fact. Non-Muslim producers of Muslim films carefully remove drinking scenes from such pictures Similarly those who want to make use of Muslim Halls should eschew wines and spirits from their dinners out of respect for the feelings of the Mussalamns.

As the Holy Koran forbids the use of liquor in Muslim institutions, the Parsis should either hold their dinner in the Cowasji

Our European Letter

Germany Trying Poland's Nerves

(From Our Own Correspondent)

PARIS, May 24.

The German-Italian Pact, announced a short while back as having been agreed upon, was formally signed this week in Berlin. Comments about this in different important capitals are brief. This not because the development is given no great significance. Observations are sparse and brief really since the development has not come as something unexpected or sudden and due to a care not to indulge in pointed statements in the light of a waver in the halt of certain middle and smaller States. This waver, observable particularly in regard to Jugoslavia and Rumania, but also in regard to some of the Baltic States, follows an apprehension of German moves and an uncertainty of the scope and extent of commitments, especially of Britain, against an aggressive course by Germany. The latter, so to say, intensifies or increases the former. The uncertainty has also gained owing to the delay and difficulties being evidenced in connection with the negotiations for an Anglo-Russian agreement. The German-Italian Pact as a matter of fact and notwithstanding the somewhat sparse comments about it, is viewed as an important event, capable of assuming much weight under certain conditions. There is no mistaking the full and close military character of it. Germany, it is felt, will secure a firm hold over the direction of arrangements in association with the Pact. In many circles it is, of course, stated that the resources of this combination will be a poor or not equal match to those of a pictured combination against the line of aggression. This may not be doubted, with such a combination getting to include a number of Powers. But the difficulty arises more on account of fears of such a combination with sufficient firmness and definiteness maturing and staying. Indeed Germany's hopes are much linked with such fears not remaining proved as unwarranted.

Anglo-Russian Negotiations

The delay that has been marking the path of the negotiations between Britain and Russia, is a strong point for upholding a concern as relating to the building of a firm and effective edifice capable of withstanding aggression. This particularly so, as there is much realisation, also in expert circles, that without active Russian participation, the prospects or possibilities of aid to any of the States in Eastern Europe by the West now, are considerably small and slender. It is viewed that a keen reserve of London, greatly responsible for the negotiations with Russia making a widely wished for progress, comes from an antagonism to the Soviet Union greatly remaining in some influential groups in England, close to the Chamberlain Government, a tendency in these groups still to concentrate greatly on an understanding with Nazi Germany, and an apathy to definite issues in Eastern Europe as against others held as more definitely linked with the security of important British imperialist interests. These circumstances are watched with much care and satisfaction by Berlin and could come to assert towards Germany continuing an aggressive or assertive course in relation to Eastern and South-eastern Europe. A readiness and quickness displayed by London to complete an understanding with Turkey, as compared with an hesitation and a restraint to conclude one of a firm and comprehensive nature with Russia, indeed has awakened reflections as to whether Britain in regard to the security of the States in Eastern Europe ultimately might not fall behind some more lines, or in positive terms, assume an attitude capable of being seen by Germany as holding a favour for a visualized Eastern European policy. It would seem, an attitude in circles in Britain causing consideration to a policy in relation to Nazi Germany, as indicated above, is sustained by hopes of striking an understanding with some more concessions with Nazi Germany, in other words, striking a new imperialist understanding, with such a course though fitted to bring in a period a security to certain important British imperialist interests. This oversees a more wider and far-reaching character of Nazi aims, aims that Nazi leaders are careful to disguise and which also tend to assume greater elasticity under force of developments or with developments proceeding in definite ways. There are strong reasons to consider that the implications of Germany's Ukrainian policy go much more easterly, a point not without close and great interest to India. A check or weakness in Russia's co-operation with the West now might well have the result of Hitler advancing to a sharper course on the foreign sphere.

Poland Under Pressure

Poland continues to stand under a pressure extended from Germany and one in ways being steadily increased. A vigorous press campaign has been started by Germany against Poland, reminding one greatly of a press campaign kept against Czechoslovakia a while back. Also tactics similar to those employed against Czechoslovakia are being adopted to support a propaganda drive. Danzig now is the main target of a German move against Poland. Apart from a firm hold that full control over Danzig will give to Germany for the extension of a frip over Poland, Berlin by pushing Danzig to the forefront, calculates on making the whole issue of the German-Polish tension as limited to the Danzig question, which is presented as a nationality one or one representing the claim of a city with a population greatly German in character to get attached to Germany. From the German side, the issue is being pushed in the form: "Is Europe to go to a war over Danzig?" A year back or less than a year back, in September last, it was: "Is Europe to go to a war over the Sudeten areas?" During the week there have been clashes in Danzig between Nazis in Danzig and Polish customs authorities. Warsaw papers complain and comment of these clashes resulting out of an attitude adopted by Germany. The official Polish telegraphic service "Pat" reports also of rigor-

FRANKLY SPEAKING

The Pope's Move

Addressing the College of Cardinals, His Holiness the Pope revealed the progress that his appeal for peace to "some statesmen of the great European nations" had made. These statesmen—prominent among them being the Axis leaders—quite naturally expressed sympathy and even gave assurances of their pacific intentions and desires. They feel that they are in danger of being forced to be on the run and any helpful and providential intervention calculated to avert the immediate danger and ensure their aggressive future is quite welcome. Nor is it surprising that His Holiness should be the providential agent for all this. The policy of the Vatican in support of the feudal landlordism of priests in Spain and in general opposition to Russia shows that His Holiness would cheerfully protect Europe from contaminating contact with Russians even though it involved helping anti-Christian pagan Fascism and Nazism. But what is the significance of the 'much interest" that the Papal move has aroused in diplomatic circles of London during the present lull? Does it indicate the likelihood of another desperate effort for an Anglo-French deal with the Axis?

Inconspicuous Visit

Two previous Notes having had no response from Germany, Poland has sent a third Note reiterating her demands in connection with the recent incidents in Danzig. That Note, too, has so far been ignored. In the meantime Dr. Buerchhardt, the League High Commissioner in Danzig, has arrived in Berlin "inconspicuously." And it is expected that "Herr Buerckhardt, who stands high in Herr Hitler's estimation, may create a more beneficial atmosphere in which to conduct eventual talks between Germany and Poland." Let us hope he does But let us hope, even more earnestly hope, that the creation of a "more beneficial atmosphere" does not involve the forcing on Poland of a surrender to Germany.

Matriculation Results

The successes at this year's Matriculation examination of the Bombay University work out at 63 per cent. as against 53 last year and 33 in the year before. For some years before 1938 the results used to be very bad and elicited strong protests from educationists and the public alike. It appears that in consequence some much-needed moderation has been at work since last year, both against unduly hard valuation of papers and the common vagaries of examinations. When this year it was found that the Algebra paper was too stiff, the Vice-Chancellor himself publicly announced that due allowance would be made for this fact. And as a result we see that, while the passes in Mathematics were 73 per cent. last year they are 80 per cent. this year. This year's general percentage of passes has rarely been exceeded. But considering that a fairly stiff preliminary examination eliminates most unfit candidates, a percentage of passes in the neighbourhood of 60 cannot be said to be too high.

"Muzaffarabad Hall"

A Parsi anti-prohibition dinner is to be held shortly at the Muzzaffarabad and to emphasize the protest against prohibition wine, it is reported, will be served rather lavishly. Now those who are against prohibition are quite at liberty to dine with wine to their hearts' content both in private and in public until the first of August. Except to regret their decision we have not much to say to the organisers of the dinner. But a word must be said to the Trustees of the Muzzaffarabad Hall which has been lent for the occasion. Being a Muslim Wakf the Hall—whether the ban is specifically mentioned in the terms or not—cannot be permitted to be used for any feast or any gathering involving the consumption of liquor. The Trustees must realise their elementary Muslim obligations as Mutawallis of a Wakf and understand that if they do not immediately cancel the loan of the Hall for an object which is so highly repugnant to their religion they will be guilty not only of a scandalous abuse of their trust but also a most outrageous and reprehensible betrayal of it.

India Must Pay Price For Freedom

Rajen Babu On Need Of Unity To Make Congress Achieve Its Goal

"In our struggle for Swaraj, we have to deal with a nation which like a shrewd merchant, does not believe in parting with anything, unless the full price is paid for it. He will never be able to secure Purna Swaraj, unless we pay its full price, and that too, in cash" said Babu Rajendra Prasad, addressing a gathering of 20,000 citizens at the Azad Maidan this evening.

Mr. Bhulabhai Desai presided.

Elaborate arrangements had been made by the B.P.C.C. in connection with the meeting.

A FIGHTING ORGANISATION

Addressing the meeting in Hindustani, Mr. Bhulabhai Desai said that the most important question before the Congress to-day was how it could strengthen the organisation, so that it could secure freedom for the country without much delay. The Congress could not be an effective fighting organisation unless every member on its roll was a disciplined soldier with sincerity of purpose. Mere numerical strength was of no avail. Mr. Bhulabhai Desai said that under the lead of Babu Rajendra Prasad in whom the country had full faith, the Congress organisation was bound to grow from strength to strength.

RAJEN BABU'S SPEECH

In the course of a speech lasting for nearly forty minutes, the Congress President said that he had undertaken the responsibility as the Rashtrapathi at a critical juncture, when the world was on the brink of a war due to mutual distrust among nations. He had accepted the responsibility, in deference to the wishes of the country. He hoped there would be co-operation from all, so that he could effectively discharge the trust reposed in him.

India, continued the Congress President, had progressed to such an extent during the past twenty years, that whatever she did was of consequence to the rest of the world.

INDIA AND WAR

In the event of a world war, every nation was likely to be dragged into the conflagration. But India's position had already been made clear. She could never be a party to an Imperialist war.

UNITY ALONE WILL SAVE COUNTRY

Emphasising the need for unity, Babu Rajendra Prasad said that unless the whole nation stood as one man, it would not be possible for India to achieve anything substantial. For want of complete freedom, Indians were helpless spectators to-day to a thousand indignities to which their brethren in places like South Africa and even Ceylon were being subjected. Interests of Indians abroad could be safeguarded only after India secured Purna Swaraj.

STRUGGLE IN INDIAN STATES

Referring to Indian States, the Congress President said that the Congress had deliberately adopted a policy of non-intervention, with a view to allow the State subjects to develop their inherent strength. It was a matter for gratification that the States' people were showing signs of awakening. They were facing boldly the bullet and the lathi, just as people in British India faced them in 1930-33. It was, indeed, a matter for regret that the Indian Princes were not able to read the signs of the times. The Congress President hoped that the States' people would follow the principles of truth and non-violence in the struggle for securing their legitimate rights. If they did, the day would not be far off, when the Congress would do its part in helping the States' people.

Referring to the differences that existed in the Congress ranks, Babu Rajendra Prasad said that such differences were but natural in a great organisation, composed of a vast number of people. All were agreed regarding India's ultimate goal, though there were differences as to the methods of achieving it. It was not necessary to be nervous regarding these differences.

The strengthening of the Congress organisation was the most important question on which it was necessary to concentrate at present. The strength of the organisation did not depend merely on the rules that governed it, but on the sincerity with which they were being adhered to. The Congress President wished to point out that there were thousands of people devoted to the cause of the Congress, though their names did not appear on enrolment forms. Mere membership figures were of no avail, if they did not include persons who believed in Congress principles and were prepared for sacrifices in its cause.

"Do not for a moment think that we have achieved all that we want" said the Rashtrapathi in conclusion. "There is much to be done before we can win Purna Swaraj. Your duty, therefore, is to strengthen the Congress organisation and render it an effective fighting organisation".

Qureishi, Sir Purshottamdas Thakurdas, Acharya Kirpalani and Mr. H. V. Kamath, the Secretary of the Committee.

QUESTION OF PARTIES IN CONGRESS

Constitution Sub-Committee Discusses Issue

The Constitution Sub-Committee appointed by the Calcutta Session of the A. I. C. C. met again on Sunday morning at the Birla House.

The Committee was set up with a view to devise ways and means of removing corrupt practices from the Congress organisations.

The members of the Committee are Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru, Dr. Pattabhi Sitaramayya, Acharya Narendra Deo and Acharya J. B. Kripalani. Babu Rajendra Prasad, Congress President, presided over the meeting.

Mahatma Gandhi, Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, and Mr. Bhulabhai Desai were also present by special invitation.

CORRUPTION MUST END.

All the members, it is understood, were one as regards the desirability of undertaking some stringent measures with a view to stamp out corruption, untruth and violence, which have appeared in the Congress, since the acceptance of Office. It was also strongly realized that the Congress organisation would collapse, unless timely check was placed on the demon of corruption marking further inroads into the organisation.

NO GROUPS IN CONGRESS.

The Committee seem to have discussed threadbare the question of forming groups and parties within the Congress. It was suggested that a ban should be imposed on all parties and groups within the Congress, as they were supposed to be inimical to the maintainance of healthy discipline and to cause a good deal of confusion due to multiple allegiance.

On the other hand, it was contended that the emergence of radical groups within the Congress should not be a matter to be viewed with alarm. Such groups, it was suggested, were indicative of the healthy differences of views, which alone would enable the great organisation like the Congress to move with the spirit of the times. The appearance of such groups was a logical sequence to the rise of national consciousness and the new life pulsating in the nation. It was also suggested that the imposition of ban on such groups would amount to suppression of honestly-held views, which might not agree with the opinions of the majority.

NO BAN ON RADICAL GROUPS.

After a good deal of discussion, it appears, the view prevailed that it would not be desirable to take steps to ban the existence of such Radical groups within the Congress.

MINISTERS AND A.I.C.C.

The Committee further considered the suggestion that Congress Ministers should not be allowed to be members of the A.I.C.C in order to make Congress more invulnerable to corruption. It seems the suggestion was not considered to be a practical proposition.

A prominent member of the Committee is understood to have made out a point that the moral sense of the Congress should assert itself, so that corruption would become impossible.

OTHER SUGGESTIONS.

The Sub-Committee considered various suggestions received from different Congress Committee and Congressmen all over the country.

It appears that the Sub-Committee will not be in a position to finish its business to-day. In case, it formulates tentative decisions in the light of Mahatma Gandhi's advice, they would be placed, for consideration before the Working Committee.

The Sub-Committee will again meet at 3 p.m. to-day.

No official statement was issued at the end of the three hours' deliberations to-day.

GANDHIJI FOR FRONTIER

PESHAWAR, June 4.

According to a telegram received from Mahatma Gandhi by Miss Mira Ben, he may leave Bombay on June 6, reaching Abbottabad on June 8.

It is understood that Mahatma Gandhi will not visit Peshawar this time because it is very hot now. After staying in Abbottabad for a few days he will take rest in a forest bungalow in the Hazara district with Khan Abdul Ghaffar Khan.

The Hon. Dr. Khan Saheb and Miss Mira Ben held consultation about selecting a suitable place for Mahatmaji's stay in the Hazara district.—United Press.

MAHATMA AT EVENING PRAYER

the weekly silence at 1 p.m., Gandhiji was busy with his correspondence. He attended the sittings of the Constitution Sub-Committee both in the morning and afternoon.

DEPUTATIONS FROM ABROAD

A deputation of the Indian Association of Belgian Congo and the Mandated Territory of Ruanda Urundi waited on Gandhiji for about thirty minutes to acquaint him with the manner of treatment meted out to Indians.

Later, Swami Bhawani Dayal from South Africa had an interview with him for about 15 minutes regarding the condition of Indians in South Africa.

SLIGHTLY WEAK

Gandhiji was examined in the morning by Dr. Jivraj Mehta, who said that he was slightly weak, though there was no cause for anxiety.

The evening prayers of Gandhiji commenced in the spacious gardens of the Birla House exactly on the stroke of 7 p.m.

Gandhiji was surrounded by a large gathering of men, women and children, many of whom had walked long distances and had come from remote parts of the city.

NO NATIONALIST GOVT. UNDER IMPERIALISM

Hindus And Muslims Can Resolve Their Differences After Winning Freedom, Says Maulana

(From Our Correspondent.)

MEERUT, (By Mail.)

'If the Musalmans will follow the Jamiat-ul-Ulamae-Hind and the Majlis-e-Ahrar Islam and stand shoulder to shoulder with the Hindus in the battle for India's freedom they would surely be able to live honourably and with their heads up in this country otherwise they are doomed for ever.' Thus remarked Maulana Hifzul Rehman, the well-known Muslim leader, in the course of his speech which he delivered at the third and concluding nocturnal session of the Provincial Majlis-e-Ahrar Conference held here in the Town Hall grounds.

Speaking to the Musalmans on their plight and the remedies for coming out of the same the Maulana analysed the past and present developments in the political sphere in the country.

LEAGUE AND MAHASABHA.

Our differences with the Muslim League, said the Maulana, were only on one point. The League held Hindus responsible for all the miseries of the Musalmans and accused them of usurping their rights and privileges. The ignorant Muslims believed in them as on the very face such accusations appeared to be true. It was not so. The facts were otherwise. We on our part hold the British Imperialism instrumental for all that. It pats and instigates the Hindus for striking at our rights and privileges for political motives.

Our fight, proceeded the speaker, was therefore with it. First of all we must remove the root cause and then we would resolve our differences amongst ourselves.

JINNAH AND SAVARKAR.

Referring to the speeches of Mr. Savarkar and Mr. Jinnah delivered simultaneously at Karachi and Lucknow last year in which each accused the Congress of being a body of the rival community Maulana Hifzul Rehman said that from them it was quite clear that none of them was seeing things with his own eyes but that a third party was working behind their vision.

Continuing the Maulana said that Islam forbids them to be slaves. They were under the circumstances left with two alternatives—either to establish an Islamic Government in India or to form a National Government. The first was impossible and impracticable. The only alternative left with them was to form a National Government composed of all communities inhabiting this country. And for this they have to work in co-operation with each other. Therefore if the Musalmans followed the Jamiat-ul-Ulamae-Hind and the Majlis-e-Ahrar and stood shoulder to shoulder with the Hindus in the battle of India's Freedom they would live in this country with honour and pride.

REJECT FEDERATION.

By a resolution the Conference held the whole of the Government of India Act as useless and a waste and unacceptable. It asserted that only that constitution for India which was framed by a Constituent Assembly elected on the basis of adult franchise would be acceptable to the people of India. The concluding part of the resolution strongly opposed the intentions of foisting the Federal structure upon the country, for in its opinion it was worse than the Provincial autonomy part. It appealed to the leaders concerned to see that it was not brought into operation and signified its intentions to fight tooth and nail any attempt that was made to bring in the undesirable Federation.

FOLLOW MAHATMA'S LEAD TO WIN 'SWARAJ'

Congress President's Reply To Ghatkopar Civic Address

(From Our Correspondent)

GHATKOPAR, June 4.

Ghatkopar presented to-night a right reception to the Congress President Rajen Babu on his third visit to the place.

The President on his arrival was carried through illuminated arches and the streets were gaily decorated with flags and buntings. The Maidan opposite the Sojpal Building presented a feast of lights. It was a mammoth gathering that the Congress President addressed while replying to the Municipal address presented in an artistic silver casket. The address which was read by the Municipal President Mr. Jethalal P. Parekh eulogized the services rendered by the Rashtrapati and related the various amenities provided by the Municipality to the rate-payers.

The President on his arrival on the dais with Sjt. Bhulabhai Desai received a thundering ovation. About 25 organizations including the local Hindu Sabha garlanded the President who caused a ripple of laughter amongst the huge audience, when he transferred a small garland to a girl nearby.

FOLLOW MAHATMA'S LEAD

In a short speech in Hindi of about 20 minutes the President after thanking the Municipality for the honour done to him, dwelt on the present fissiparous tendencies in the Congress and stressed the necessity of the notions following the Mahatma's lead at the present juncture. The President continuing bewailed the Hindu Muslim dissensions and explained how the Congress was the only body which could deliver the goods.

"Follow the Mahatma's lead and let Truth and Non-violence be your sheet-anchor and the Swaraj will be yours in no time" thus declared the President while closing his short reply.

Sjt. Bhulabhai Desai then addressed a few words and echoed the sentiments expressed by the Congress President.

"Vande-Mataram" terminated the proceedings.

DERA ISMAIL KHAN, June 4.

The open session of the Frontier Hindu-Sikh Minorities Conference commenced this morning under the presidentship of Sardar Sant Singh, M.L.A., (Central).

About fifteen resolutions were passed dealing "inter alia" with tribal raids, requesting the Congress High Command to replace the present Ministry, and appointing a Provincial Council of Action.

It was also resolved to send a provincial Hindu-cum-Sikh deputation to the Congress High Command to acquaint it with the situation.

The agrarian policy of the Government was also condemned.—A. P.

MORE REPRESSION IN JAMNAGAR?

(From Our Correspondent)

JAMNAGAR, June 4.

The general atmosphere in Jamnagar is tense. The Praja Mandal and the merchant section are uneasy. Written short notices were served on merchants to vacate shops under Hajur's personal order. More notices, it is learnt, for disconnection of telephone and vacating of shops are being prepared. The disconnected merchants are advised to use telephones at one anna a call. It is rumoured the Police department was ordered by the Jamsaheb to carry out orders from the Revenue Department. This means unchecked terror to merchants and farmers in villages.

APPEAL TO GANDHIJI AND CONGRESS PRESIDENT

Wanted A Plan For Abolition Of Drink And Gambling

Mr. B. F. Bharucha has addressed the following appeal to Mahatma Gandhi the President and the Working Committee of the Congress: —

Sirs—You are aware that the present policy of the Bombay Government, as regards immediate and total Prohibition in Bombay and Suburbs, and of Property Tax in Bombay and Ahmedabad, and the sales tax all over, has met with severe opposition from various quarters notably the following:—

(1) Liquor and toddy dealers,
(2) Parsi deputations,
(3) Christians, as represented by the Archbishop of Bombay.
(4 Property Owners' Association.
(5) Indian Merchants' Chamber
(6) European Chamber of Commerce.
(7) Mill Owners' Association etc.

Feelings are running high; and the propriety of the property tax is to be challenged in Courts of Law. According to Gandhiji's principle of Truth and 'Ahimsa', there should not be coercion nor distortion; but persuasion and co-operation. To gain that end, may I suggest to Mahatmaji, Rashtrapati and Working Committee to convene a Round Table Conference of all interests with a view to hear all sides; and appoint a sub-committee to devise a Rational Plan for the earliest prohibition of Drink, Sutta Khe, Race betting and speculation on various Markets; and for the levy of equitable taxation to meet the deficit. In a Conference of this kind eminent economists like Prof. K. T. Shah, Prof Vakil, Prof Wadia, Prof. Joshi and Mr. Manu Subedar may be profitably invited.

The findings of such a Committee will be useful in attaining Gandhiji's real aim of all round Shuddhi, without discrimination to any community, trade industry or interest.

Will the Leaders seize this golden opportunity of hearing all sides, meeting all view points, and then ensue a plan of Prohibition and Taxation that would prove equitable to all interests; remove all opposition and bitterness, and smoothen the work of the Congress Cabinet?

World Achievement.

Machines And Man

In these days of slum clearance and re-housing and town planning schemes, everyone is familiar with hoardings surrounding buildings in the course of construction. Though few people ever pause to consider the wonder of a man laying bricks and so making a wall, a small crowd nearly always gathers as a girder is swung into place high above the heads of the workmen.

A fascinating sight it is to watch a man travelling in a bucket dangling from a crane. This is the means of transport used for taking some of the world's bravest and most skilful men to their daily task. Far above the pavement they work on skeleton girders, sometimes higher than a church steeple. With a small forge, and bellows to blow the coal and coke into a blaze, rivets and bolts are made red hot by a worker who wears thick gloves and uses tongs. He deftly throws the piece of red hot metal to another worker who catches it in a bucket, puts the pneumatic riveter to work, and quickly hammers the bolt home with a rattling fury.

The co-operation which results in the completion of a huge building is truly astonishing. The foundations have first to be made, and the piles hammered into place. Then the steel frame goes up, and the concrete flooring is put down. Steel girders forged in Bessemer furnaces are fed to the cranes and four days after leaving the fires they are riveted in place. Then come the masons, joiners, glaziers, and tilers. Electricians lay down miles of wire, and telephones are installed. Finally the hoardings are removed, and decorators finish off the new building.

99 VICTIMS OF "THETIS" DISASTER

Not Possible To Raise Ill-Fated Submarine Before Tuesday

Demand For Competent Court Of Inquiry

Rescuers Separated From Trapped Men By Thin Steel Could Not Be Saved

LONDON, June 4.

THE DEATHROLL IN THE "THETIS" DISASTER IS NOW BELIEVED TO BE NINETY-NINE. A CHESHIRE MAN STATES THAT HE WAS INFORMED BY A REPRESENTATIVE OF VICKERS ARMSTRONG THAT HIS BROTHER IS IN THE SUBMARINE. AN OFFICIAL OF THE LIVERPOOL AND GLASGOW SALVAGE COMPANY, ANNOUNCING THAT IT WILL NOT BE POSSIBLE TO RAISE THE SUBMARINE BEFORE TUESDAY ADDED THAT SHE WILL BE TOWED TO THE NEAREST SHALLOW WATER, PROBABLY TO ANGLESEY COAST.

Parliament Reassembling To-day

The result of the Admiralty court inquiry—whether the public or the usual naval court is hitherto not known—will be awaited with intense eagerness by the public, as will any preliminary statement in Parliament which is reassembling to-morrow. The Third Sea Lord Rear Admiral, B. A. Fraser, is now in Liverpool where he arrived from London, late last night. Out at sea not many miles away, regulation wreck marks indicate the place where the "Thetis" sank.

A HUGE QUESTION-MARK.

Figuratively speaking, the pages devoted to the disaster in Sunday's paper read like a huge question-mark. They are eloquently expressive of the nation's natural desire for the fullest information about a tragedy of such a magnitude, in circumstances so bewildering to the layman. Some papers print lists of questions—spread over two pages in one case—to which naval and other experts contribute answers, the chief of which seek to reassure readers that all measures possible were taken to save the lives of the men who are now said to include some of the best submarine designing and building experts in the country.—Reuter.

LIFE-SAVING OPERATIONS ABANDONED

LONDON, June 3.

Lloyd's agent at Liverpool aboard the salvage steamer "Ranger" in a wireless message at 18-35 stated: "The present position with regard to the submarine "Thetis" is that all life-saving operations are now abandoned as hopeless. All efforts are now being concentrated upon salvage of the vessel. Subject to continuance of the present suitable weather conditions and prospects of success are favourable."

PRESS DEMAND SEARCHING ENQUIRY

Full explanation as to why though the hull of the "Thetis" stuck out 18 feet above water rescuers, failed to save the men entombed inside is demanded in newspaper leaders commenting on the disaster. While every praise is given to the workers who strove to reach the men aboard the "Thetis", many questions are raised about the equipment and their disposal.

"The "Evening Standard" says: "Nobody suggests that the Admiralty has not worked desperately with every energy, but the ship's hull stuck out 18 feet above water. Was it not possible with all the horsepiwer of Merseyside at command to hold it until essential equipment arrived for breathing fresh air into the condemned cell? Was it possible to despatch a salvage ship earlier? What is the full explanation of the changes in the Admiralty's statements from hope to despair, and then back again to faint hope. These questions are on all men's lips."

The "Observer" says: "The tragedy is the worst that has befallen the submarine flotilla in time of peace, and an investigation of its cause will be a matter of acute universal concern. The diving bell apparatus by which more than half of those imprisoned in the American submarine "Squalus" were rescued the other day would not appear to have had any chance of success in the plight by which the "Thetis" was overtaken; but there will be a strong demand that the best official and scientific energies shall be freshly applied in aid of the men whose lives are dedicated to the nation's safety and whose dauntlessness is part of the nation's honour."

THE REASON WHY

The "Sunday Express" says: "Apart from the horror at the fate of the dead another emotion stirs the citizens—the determination to know the reason why the rescuers, separated from the trapped men only by a thin steel wall which they could see and clamber over and explore, failed to get them out in time. Perhaps all these questions can be answered by the Admiralty to the complete satisfaction of the public. The sooner this is done the better."

"Reynold's Weekly" asks: "How did it happen? could it have been avoided?" and says "These questions cry for answer through the nation's anguish. They must be answered fully and publicly. That is a debt of honour to the dead and a burden on the consciences of the living."

WANTED COURT OF INQUIRY

The "Sunday Times" says: "The submarine was fitted with all approved safety appliances. There is at present no warrant for suggesting that she was structurally deficient or was mishandled in this tragic trial. These matters should be probed into by a competent court of inquiry, the probing should be thorough and strict, and the judgment given according to evidence. It at least can be done in the interest of the gallant men who will carry on the perilous undersea service. We may be sure that obligation in discharge of this duty without fear or favour is recognised by none more than the Board of Admiralty."

DENMARK'S SYMPATHY

Copenhagen.—The Comander-in-Chief of the Navy has sent a message to the First Sea Lord expressing deepest sympathy with the British Navy in the "Thetis" disaster.

HAWSERS PLACED UNDER "THETIS"

It is learned that hawsers have been placed under the "Thetis" but it will not be possible to raise her before Tuesday.

ASKED NOT TO TALK OF HIS EXPERIENCE

Mrs. Shaw, wife of the Cammell Laird Engineer-Fitter, F. Shaw, the last man rescued told "Reuter" this morning that her husband seemed to be in fairly good health. He has been told not to discuss his awful experience. He said practically nothing about what he had gone through, except that the air was foul and getting dreadful. When he left all the men were behaving wonderfully.

SEVEN MORE NAMES ISSUED

The names of seven additional men in the "Thetis" have been issued by the Admiralty this morning. They are all Admiralty Civilian Officers and this makes the total of 101 of which four have been rescued.

MAN "VERSUS" SEA

Difficulties Of Salvaging "Thetis"

LONDON, June 4.

"What went wrong in the "Thetis" after the four men had escaped?" asks Lieut.-Commander Kenneth Edwards, a Naval correspondent, in the course of an article in a London paper on the disaster.

"Unless the vessel were raised it is improbable, we will ever know." It seems clear, however, that either the man about to escape, was drowned in the escape chamber when his body jammed the hatch, or it was decided by those inside the submarine to abandon this form of escape (by the Davis Apparatus). The escape chambers work perfectly well if a submarine is on anything approaching an even keel, although each escape means that two tons of water enter the submarine. If a submarine is at an angle of over 30 degrees, as was the "Thetis" it might be impossible to confine the water to the bilges. A situation might have arisen, in which ingress of more water would have flooded the electric batteries. This was to be avoided at all costs, since sea water if it comes into contact with electric batteries, produces chlorine gas.

SALVAGE DIFFICULTY

Dealing with the difficulties of salvage attempts, Lieut.-Commander Edwards says: "It was only for about 45 minutes in every six hours the tidal stream was sufficiently slack to allow of divers working. The first consideration of the divers was to get air into the submarine. This would be a task of difficulty at the best of times but with the submarine standing on its nose and swinging in the tide, the difficulties were magnified enormously.

SEA " VERSUS" MAN

"It has been suggested that since the stern of the submarine at one period was above the surface a hole might have been cut in this to release the imprisoned men. That part of the stern above water, was, however, a mass of tanks. If a hole had been cut in the hull, there would still have been a number of bulkheads stiffening the frames between the men and their would-be rescuers. The best brains in the country and the most up-to-date salvage equipment were enlisted in an attempt to raise the submarine far enough for an escape hole to be cut. The battle of man against the sea, however, is never so grim as in cases of salvage—particularly when salvage is being attempted against time".

Lieut.-Commander Edwards here recalls the months taken to raise sunken submarine "M-2" and the fact that on each of the two occasions that the submarine was raised so that the parts were above water, something failed to withstand the strain and she sank back again into the depths.—Reuter.

AT THE ALTAR OF DRINK

"Whichever side we turn it is seen that the use of alcohol violates the great rule of conserving our property and our power. The lives of our people, the strength and skill of our artisans, the healthiness and comfort of our homes, our relations with other countries, our trade with the whole world, are all more or less sacrificed to this one passion for drink. It is a factor so great as to paralyse our efforts for the prevention of almost every evil that exists, not only in our economic, but also in our moral, social, and spiritual condition; and so dominates the situation that, until checked or eradicated, there is little possibility of real progress in any but a downward direction."
—STEPHEN BOURNE, F.S.S.

Youths To Turn Into Militiamen

220,018 Sign Registration Form Under Military Training Act

LONDON, June 3.

A quarter million 20-year old men, to-day, signed the registration form under the Military Training Act, which will make most of them militiamen. They paraded at Labour Exchanges throughout the country at hours determined by the initial letters of their surnames in the alphabetical order. They mixed with a crowd of all classes, students, clerks and workmen, variously attired in working business or sports clothes.

SATISFACTORY RESPONSE

Mr. Ernest Brown, Minister of Labour, who toured a number of London Exchanges, to-day, subsequently declared that the response was entirely satisfactory, and the proportion just about what was expected for a full register. He added that he spoke to some of them, and there was no doubt the general attitude of the men was that the nation was calling them, and they were answering willingly. A very large proportion appeared to be looking forward to it with some eagerness. The proportion of conscientious objectors was very small, and the proportion of requests for service in the Air Force or the navy was not so large as he expected. The boys seemed to be taking it for granted that they were going to do their military training in the army.

220,018 REGISTERED

Registrations are stated to have totalled 220,018. Of these 3,775 are registered as conscientious objectors or 1.7 per cent. There are approximately 300,000 men in the age group of 20 to 21, and it is estimated that about 50,000 are already in forces or are exempted.—Reuter.

A SHORT STORY

WARM LIGHT

By RIHARD HILL WILKINSON

(By Richard Hill Wilkinson)

"Wanted: Intelligent young girl to do clerical work."

Edna Ross folded the paper and tucked it under her arm. She had to have that job. If she didn't get it, she'd go hungry.

Unfortunately Edna was stone deaf. That was why the clerical job appealed to her. She wouldn't have to take dictation or converse a great deal with her employer. Conversation itself wasn't so bad, not if she could look at the person with whom she was conversing. For, after years of patient study, she had mastered the art of lip reading. It was an art difficult to master. But once the battle was won Edna found she could understand people as well, if not better, than when her hearing had been normal.

There were five other girls waiting at the office of J. H. Hebron and Co., and all of them had copies of the paper containing the advertisement. Edna's heart sank. They were pretty girls, not unintelligent looking. They appeared happy and confident.

Edna was the third girl to be interviewed. To her surprise she found J. H. Hebron to be a young man in his late twenties. He greeted her cordially and questioned her regarding her previous positions. Edna answered truthfully that she had been employed as clerk for one of the city's largest packing houses. That was before her accident, before she lost the use of her hearing.

The interview was an ordeal. Although outwardly she maintained a calmness and composure, inwardly her heart pounded. Despite her success with the lip reading course, there was always the dread that she would misunderstand and blunder with her answers.

Fifteen minutes later Edna was summoned from the waiting room. She had been selected for the position. It seemed incredible. Yet there was Mr Hebron smiling at her from across his desk. Could she begin work to-day? And would twenty-five dollars a week be enough to start on? Later, of course, when she became accustomed to the work, there'd be a raise.

Edna adapted herself to the firm of J. H. Hebron and Company with a thoroughness that surprised herself even more than it pleased John Hebron. Her past experience with the packing company stood by her as an able ally but joy at again being able to work and her eagerness to please were the main factors in assuring herself a position with her present employer for as long as she cared to stay.

He asked whether she could begin work to-day.

The weeks flew by and Edna came to realise that John Hebron was beginning to take more than a business interest in his new clerk. She felt his eyes on her at times when ordinarily he would have been bent over his own desk. Frequently they lunched together, and once he asked her to the theatre.

It was his invitation that created in Edna the first feeling of alarm and cast a shadow over her new found happiness. The theatre! How she had loved it! And now to think it would never again be hers to appreciate.

For perhaps the first time in her life she knew a bitterness at being deprived of something that should rightfully be hers: The ability to hear and appreciate sound.

It was this knowledge that drove home the fact that she was ever to be robbed of love. No man, she knew, could ever love a deaf girl. And John! Sooner or later he would find out! It was inevitable. The thought chilled her. A terrible dread, born of fear, began to torment her peace of mind.

She refused John's invitation to the theatre in the hopes it would discourage further attentions. But on the contrary it seemed only to make him more persistent. Scarcely a day passed but what he invited her to lunch, to drive, to dinner.

She refused constantly, a fact that seemed to grieve John Hebron. Somehow he knew that she was purposely avoiding him, that she did not dislike him.

"Edna," he said one day, "why have you changed so abruptly? You no longer accept my invitations to lunch. There must be a reason?"

Edna's heart began to pound. The time had come! She must tell him? It wasn't fair to continue like this! She'd have to confess, apologize—and look for another job.

Hebron smiled understandingly at her hesitancy. It semed to Edna to ba a wistful smile.

"You needn't say it, Edna. I understand. I've guessed your little secret. I don't blame you in the slightest. You've been very kind—"

Edna was looking at him bewilderingly. "You know then that—that—" She faltered, unable to go on.

Hebron took her hand in his.

"I know that you've found out I'm deaf," he said. "And you've been very kind not to mention it. I tried to deceive you by reading your lips, even asked you to attend the theatre. But—well—"

In his own misery John Hebron failed to see the wonderful, warm light that glowed in the girl's eyes.

MAHATMA ENUNCIATES HIS "NEW TECHNIQUE"

the States a reign of law, instead of the reign of a person or persons, however well-meaning they may be.

I can then see my way to build up responsible Government on that solid foundation. But responsible Government, which is only a gift without the will and the power of the people behind it, will be a mere paper responsibility, hardly worth the paper on which it may be printed.

The second object of suspension is closely related to the foregoing: if it is a fact that the atmosphere for immediate responsible Government among the States is not propitious and that the people are not ready to pay the price, it follows that they should have the proper training for it. I am not likely, lightly and in the near future, to advise Mass Satyagraha anywhere. There is neither adequate training nor discipline among the people.

I have not the shadow of a doubt that the people at large should pass one or more positive tests. Mere abstention from physical violence will not answer our purpose. In the centre of this programme of positive tests, I unhesitatingly put the spinning wheel and all it means. If there is quick response, this can be a short course. But it may well be a long course, if the people do not make enthusiastic response. I know no other programme than the four-fold constructive programme of 1920. If the people do not take it up whole-heartedly, it is proof enough for me that they have no 'Ahimsa' in them, or not the 'Ahimsa' of my conception or say they have no confidence in the present leadership. For me, there is no other test but that I have ever put before the nation since 1920. The new light tells me that I must not weaken as I have done before in exacting the discipline, I have mentioned. I can quite clearly see my way to advise Civil Disobedience, whenever the conditions mentioned are amply fulfilled

That Civil Disobedience will be individual, but in terms of 'Ahimsa', far more effective than any Mass Civil Disobedience of the past.

NEED FOR RADICAL CHANGE

I must own that the past movements have been more or less tainted. I have no regret for them. For I knew no better then. I had the sense and humility to retrace my steps, whenever I discovered blunders. Hence the nation has gone forward from step to step. But the time has come for a radical change in the direction indicated.

NO MASS C. D.

Thus my opinion on Travancore has resolved itself in the enunciation of my present mental condition and its reaction on the Travancore situation.

To sum up (1) suspension of mass civil disobedience should be indefinite (2) there should be the will among the State Congress people to open a way to honourable negotiations with the authorities (3) there should be no anxiety about those Satyagrahis who are in prison or new ones. If the spirit of Satyagraha is rightly assimilated, these imprisonments and disabilities should hearten the people (4). The pitch of the immediate demands should be lowered, if necessary, in order to quicken the progress towards the final goal (5). The condition precedent to any Civil Disobedience is the fulfilment by the general mass of the Constructive Programme as a test, if nothing more, of their coming under the discipline of the State Congress."

"It is hardly necessary for me to say that it is open to the workers to reject my advice. They should adopt it, only if it appeals to their heads and their hearts and tallies with their own reading of the local situation, of which I own they must be better judges".—A. P.

NO DOMINATION IN EUROPE

Daladier On Fr. Determination To Keep Balance In Europe

PARIS, June 4.

Everything warrants the hope of a speedy and happy conclusion of the latest international negotiations, declared M. Daladier addressing the Executive Committee of the Radical Socialist Party, asserting that Europe had the choice between collaboration and domination.

M. Daladier said that the French Government were making every effort to enable Europe to live happily in free collaboration. At the same time he would give the world assurance that France was in the front rank of Powers, which would prevent Europe from being drawn into a catastrophe by attempts at domination. "If there is any intention of threatening the balance of peace in Europe, we will rightly and resolutely oppose such adventures".

M Daladier added: "Let us say 'no' to aggression, tyranny, fanaticism and brute force, but yes to all efforts for loyal collaboration and all that may bring about a rivival of economic exchanges and a more equitable distribution of raw materials.

The Executive Committee has approved of Government's Home and Foreign Policy unanimously and expressed confidence in the Government to ensure the future of the country.—Reuter.

Administration Of Roads In Bombay Presidency

Centralization Scheme Urged By Transport Development Association

The following letter has been addressed to the Government of Bombay by the Bombay branch of the Indian Roads and Transport Development Association:—

There are approximately 13,000 miles of roads exclusive of earth roads in the Presidency. Of this total 7,000 miles are Provincial roads under the P. W. D. and 6,000 miles are under 20 different District Boards. These roads can be split up under the following classification:

	P.W.D.	D.B.
Stone metalled	5,860	2,911	eq. 8,771
Gravel, Moorum, Sand, Clay, etc....	1,131	3,090	eq. 4,221
	6,991	6,001	eq. 12,991

ROAD EXPENDITURE

The expenditure on roads over the past three years has been as follows:—

	1935-36	136-37	1937-38
	(In Rupees lakhs).
PROVINCIAL ROADS.
Original works from Provincial Revenue.	1.51	2.68	4.30
Original works from Road Development Fund.	11.69	19.23	37.90
Maintenance from Provincial Revenue.	26.17	28.60	28.19
Maintenance from Road Development Fund.	0.16	0.45	0.39
DISTRICT BOARD ROADS
Original works	4.40	5.11	5.40
Maintenance	10.06	10.39	10.64

While there is no vast difference between the total mileage under the District Boards and the P. W. D., it will however be seen there is double the mileage of metalled roads under the P. W. D. as compared to the District Boards and a little more than one-third the mileage of lower class roads.

The expenditure on original works on P.W.D. roads last year was Rs. 42.10 lakhs. While on District Board Roads it was only Rs. 5.40 lakhs. Expenditure on mainten a n c e shows a smaller difference, i. e. P.W.D. Rs. 28.58 lakhs. a n d District Boards Rs. 10.64 lakhs.

NEED FOR CENTRALISATION

This great difference in expenditure between the P. W. D. and District Board roads is largely due to the greater mileage of higher class roads under the P.W.D. which, being mainly arterial roads, are wider and carry far more fast moving traffic.

The District Boards on the other hand accommodate more extensively slow moving bullock cart traffic and therefore do not rank in the same importance as the roads under the P. W. D.

IN OTHER PROVINCES

With the rapid growth of fast moving transport and the demand for higher class roads—there is a tendency in many provinces to transfer their District Board Roads to the P. W. D. as a notable example the Punjab P.W.D. have recently taken over some 800 miles of District Board roads and wherever possible the Governments in the United Provinces and Bengal, it is understood have the intention to follow this policy.

In most countries it will be found that with the growth of motor transport a new orientation of road administration has become necessary and as a further example I would quote what has taken place in England only last year when 4,500 miles of roads were transferred from the control of numerous local authorities to the Ministry of Transport.

In fact, in support of the transfer of responsibility of our roads to a more central authority it is interesting to note the following extract from the summary of conclusions and recommendations of the Indian Road Development Committee 1927-28, para 96, section B (1):—

> "Road Development in India is passing beyond the financial capacity of Local Governments and Local Bodies and is becoming a national interest which may, to some extent, be a proper charge on central revenue."

Consideration was given to the proposal to transfer P.W.D. roads to District Boards some time ago in the Central Provinces and that Government ultimately decided against it. It has also been attempted in Bombay Presidency when P.W.D. roads were transferred to the Poona District Board. Here again it was found unsatisfactory and the roads reverted again to the P.W.D.

DECENTRALISATION

The decentralisation of the administration of roads may have been advisable when the users consisted of only slow moving traffic operating exclusively within a District Board area. But to-day with motor transport traversing in a few hours many District Board roads—it is apparent that the centralisation of administration of roads and not decentralisation is what is required. Further to provide efficient road communication for this class of modern traffic you need a body with authority covering a wide area even as large as the Province, such as the Public Works Department. Highly specialised Road Engineers are also necessary, the engagement of whom by District Boards, for financial reasons, if no other would be, a practical impossibility.

If the consideration of Government is prompted by economy let us examine what their position may be in the event of transfer. On the assumption the Boards would act merely as the agents of Government the latter would decide exactly how the money available would be spent. The District Board Engineer would prepare annual repair estimates, all of which would be required to be passed by Government Inspectors. Government would need to place at the disposal of District Boards large sums of money for expenditure by them on objects, in many of which the Boards would have no direct interest, therefore an efficient system of direction and inspection will be essential, such as the maintenance of a staff of Inspectors of Works who would be responsible that the money allotted was properly spent.

Any such scheme of transfer presumably would be on the basic assumption that the District Board will employ Engineers of the same professional qualification as at present employed by the Public Works Department, competent in every respect to do the work of all kinds. Unless this assumption can safely be made the transfer of responsibility for an annual expenditure of Governments funds amounting to 70 lakhs or more would be out of the question.

The Reorganisation Committee of 1933 in considering the question of transfer states it has been disclosed that there is far too much interference by the members of Boards with their executive officers with the result that the Engineer may be forced to do things contrary to his conscience or to his professional instincts. The Engineer has no security of tenure if his actions, no matter how justifiable they may be from the professional standpoint, contravene the desire of the majority of the members of his Board and he has as a rule no powers over his subordinate staff, who often have friends on the Board whom the Engineer, if he is to retain his appointment, dare not offend.

The choice of the Engineer must rest with the Local Board and if the Local Board has so little civic sense that it cannot be trusted to choose an officer solely on the grounds of administrative ability, professional capacity and integrity, no transfer should take place.

In the event of such transfer, government would require power to interfere effectively if money was not properly spent. Government should have power to require the Board to remove the Engineer or any other officer of the staff whom they considered incompetent to perform his duties.

ADDITIONAL CONTROL

Owing to the larger amounts that may be involved, Government would require to institute an additional control at least as efficient and rigorous as that as present in force, in the P.W.D. This would necessitate a material strengthening of the accounting staff in the District Board Office and the employment in the P. W. D. of a trained Accountant.

Another point is that the District Boards at the present time rely too much on Government for pecuniary assistance yet to transfer further responsibility to them will tend to increase the financial responsibility and cause money to be spent less advantageously.

Also in the event of Government desiring to supersede a District Board on account of inefficiency they will through the reduction of the P. W. D. not have the necessary organisation to take over the roads.

Another important point against the transfer of roads to District Boards is that in the construction and maintenance of modern roads, costly plant and machinery is often required such as is beyond the capacity of the smaller bodies to purchase or fully utilise while the P.W.D. responsible for a much longer mileage of modern types of roads would more easily be in a position to make use of the machinery the whole year round.

These factors are likely to lead to a considerable saving in administration and over-head charges which will be reflected in the cost of maintenance.

The Reorganisation Committee of 1932 were opposed to any such transfer of authority for reasons of economy as they considered the expenditure involved was disproportionate and risks too great.

THE BEST SOLUTION

It is therefore, for the foregoing reasons, strongly advocated that the transfer of the more important District Board roads to the P. W. D. be undertaken which will bring financial relief to the local authorities and allow them to concentrate on the less important roads under their charge.

INDUSTRY IN MADRAS

Lancashire Of South India?

MADRAS, (By Mail).

(From Our Own Correspondent).

The Government of Madras have taken up the construction of the Papanasam Hydro-Thermal Electric Scheme to provide cheap electric power in the Tinnevelly, Ramnad and Madura districts and they expect to commence supply in 1941. The seheme forms an integral part of the plans now being brought to fruition for an Electrical Grid throughout the province of Madras and it is expected to provide cheap electric power facilities similar to those met within more progressive countries in other parts of the world.

The Government of Madras have every reason to anticipate a large measure industrial development in the area commanded by the Papanasam Hydro-Electric scheme, as soon as the scheme starts commercial operation and they believe that it will contribute to rural economy and well-being of the population.

GREAT SCOPE

The scope for establishing industries utilising the raw agricultural and forest products of the Tinnevely is great. The geographical district of Tinnevelly has an area of 4,315 square miles and a population of 20,46,907 distributed among 33 towns and 966 villages, according to a press communique issued to-day. The area irrigated is 264,619 acres representing about one-fifth of the area sown. Both edible and industrial crops are sown. The district is a large producer of cotton, next only to Coimbatore in this province.

Apart from the direct irrigation systems, well irrigation is also practised. With the availability of electric power, the ryot can take to electric pumping in areas where lift irrigation is in vogue or presents possibilities. Factories can be established anywhere where conditions of materials, labour, etc., make it feasible. The geographical position of Tinnevtlly district makes it easy for starting the following industries on modern lines. (1) rice milling plants, (2) flour grinding mills, (3) oil extraction mills and manufacture of oil cake, (4) soap manufacture, (5) sugar refining and manufacture (6) cotton ginning and spinning (7) paper manufacture.

TEXTILE INDUSTRY:

Madura, Ramnad and Tinnevelly districts produce annually more than a lakh of bales of country cotton and half a lakh of Combodia cotton. And there is, therefore, great scope for the establishment of more ginning, spinning and weaving mills in these districts. The example of Coimbatore district may here be cited. Before Pykara Power became available there were less than 10 cotton mills in the district. Now there are over 25 mills and all are being worked with Pykara power, so much so it has rightly earned the name of Lancashire of South India". There is no reason why the Papanasam area should not become the second cotton manufacturing centre in the Province. Textile mills for the production of the finer counts of yarn can also be erected as American and Egyptian Varieties of cotton required for mixing can be imported through the port of Tuticorin.

As the Tinnevelly district is a large producer of cotton, the cotton industries, as might be expected, provide occupation for the largest number of persons, the other occupations not connected with cotton giving employment to 400 hands out of a total employment of nearly 12,000 hands. The district abounds in palmyras and as a result occupation is found in sugar refineries and distilleries. Considering that the district is an important producer of gingelly there may be scope for one or two oil mills.

Apart from the possibility of developing the paper and staple fibre industries, the principal outlet for power in the area served by the Papanasam project would appear to lie in the development of the cotton spinning and weaving industries. Although the cost of power is a definite item in cotton spinning and weaving, it is not all important and there are other advantages attendant on the use of electricity. Electric motors can be started up more easily than engines and without the detailed attention and warming up periods necessary in the case of large prime movers. There is a considerable saving in machinery costs as the elimination of the prime mover and steam boilers results in lower capital expenditure on power plant, and the money thus saved can be spent on productive plants. The difficulty of finding suitable water for the boilers is avoided, and there is greater freedom of choice in the locality of the mill as no cooling water-supply is needed, whilst the absence of heavy mill gearing permits a lighter building construction as considerable space is saved thro' not having to provide an engine house, rope-race, cooling pond, space for coal storage, etc.

COST OF POWER:

It is no doubt due to a realisation of these several advantages that there has been such a marked development of the cotton mill industry in the Coimbatore area since the advent of electric power from Pykara; and the extension of electric supply in the Tinnevelly and adjoining districts may reasonably be expected to result in a further expansion of the cotton spinning and weaving and industry in the extreme south of the Province. There are at present nine or ten mills in the three districts. Power will be available for cotton mulls in the area served by the Papanasam project at from .4 to .6 anna per unit depending on the load and that the rate will therefore, be identical with those charged to the cotton mills in the Pykara area.

The provision of cheap electric power in the area should tend to promote the development of small scale industries although without a detailed survey, it is not possible to say to what extent the development of cottage and small scale industries may be looked for when reasonably cheap electric power becomes available over a wide area in the Tinnevelly and adjoining districts. The development of textile industries in the home should be facilitated in the area by the advent of power from the Papanasam project. Individual looms could be set up for weaving suitings, towels and other fabrics with two folded yarns. Cheap electric power may also render possible the development of the gold thread industry in the area.

PAPER MANUFACTURE

Eeta reed is available in plenty in the Tinnevelly forests. There exist about 20,000 acres of reed areas in the Tambraparni and Serviar basins estimated to yield 20,000 tons of dry reed a year in a three-year rotation. In addition, 1,000 tons of reed can be had each year from scattered growth over a large area in the district whilst further reed areas are estimated to yield more than 4,000 tons per year. These areas should be able to supply sufficient material for the production of 10,000 tons of paper per annum. "The Papanasam Project works area offers perhaps the best facilities for the manufacture of paper on a commercial scale". The eeta reed could possibly be used in the staple fibre industry, as it may be suitable material for the manufacture of cellulose.

Tinnevelly district offers great opportunities for profitable investment and an attractive field for the establishment of pioneer industries. The raw products, cheap labour and electric power and other advantages are available.

KALYAN LIGHTING

(From Our Correspondent.)

KALYAN, June 3.

The impasse between the Kalyan Municipality and the Kalyan Electricity Company regarding the question of street lighting bids fair to end in the near future as the Electrical Engineer to the Government of Bombay Mr. Hams, has intervened in the matter. He has proposed that the company do supply a minimum of 25,000 units for 320 lamps at an annual cost of Rs. 4,000 and the contract to remain in force for five years

This offer will be considered by the General Board in its meeting next week In case the terms are agreed to the Municipality will have to spend about Rs. 4,000 less than what it used to do formerly.

Mr. M. P Oka, the Municipal President has issued a statement explaining to the rate-payers, the genesis of the dispute and the beneficial nature of the proposed terms.

ous measures taken by Germany against the Polish minority in Germany mentioned as numoering a million and a half. There are accounts of arrests and house raids and sharp steps against Polish journalists. The position is described as getitng to an "untenable" one. Germany's aim is to try Poland's nerves closely and severely. Poland's present halt is one of much firmness and alertness. But there is no denying a tightness cast on both sides by a strain that has developed The concentration on military measures means also an intensifying of economic rigour in Germany, already great. It is a situation that lends an urge to an assertive course, particularly with factors speaking for a check not seen as sufficiently united and firm. Poland reckons well that the strongest single factor preventing Hitler's annexation of Danzig is the Polish army. Greater weight, however, might get to be given to estimates of the scope of repercussions of a conflict with Poland. Round 300,000 Polish troops are held as being drawn close to the frontiers of Danzig. Poland is in a state of much excitement, but the country also stands united in a way not known for long. Then the threat from Germany is seen as near and real. The Poles are in a hard position. But they are a spirited lot and have a good army. Poland, of course, estimates the value to her of external contacts. The turn that Anglo-Russian negotiations take doubtlessly will have a well marked effect on Poland's future.

Increased Vigilance Over Czechs

Closer vigilance is being extended by Germany over the Czechs even as a control is being tightened over them. The Czechs are now in a hard and sad plight. The scope of communications for them with the outside world is rigidly limited. No one can leave or enter Bohemia and Moravia without the special permission of the German Police, the Gestapo. It is not easy for the Czechs to get the permits. And in all case delays are great. In place of the rows and rows of foreign papers from all lands that one could see till a few months back on the numerous newspaper stalls in the principal streets of Prague, one sees to-day practically only German papers. In large numbers or rather increasing numbers, Czechs are being taken over by German authorities for various kinds of labour in Germany. Recently in some towns notices were put up by German authorities asking Czech girls to volunteer for different kinds of work, adding that they will be "chosen" if they failed to volunteer. An increased vigilance, it would appear, has been felt as necessary owing to various signs displayed indicating a popular restiveness. The Czechs are no easy material for assimilation by Germany. An united Czech party brought into life under German occupation has just been dissolved.

Is There To Be A Shake To The Balkan Entente?

There are references to the Balkan Entente (Jugoslavia, Rumania, Greece and Turkey) getting to experience a shake. It is no secret that German diplomacy has been directed to cause a loosening of this Entente. A weakening is indicated as likely to be circumstanced by a possible halt of Jugoslavia which at the moment has passed to experience a German-Italian hold, a position that Belgrade has come to occupy much as a result of a policy favoured by certain dominant feudal interests in the land. The development in the direction of the Anglo-Turkish Agreement is mentioned as having given a fresh impulse to Germany and Italy to get Jugoslavia to serve in the direction of weakening the Balkan Entente. Belgrade is stated as being pushed to lend a favour to Bulgaria replacing Turkey in a Balkan grouping. Turkey has long kept the most active interest in the Balkan Entente. The new moves to weaken the Balkan Entente are viewed with care in Ankara. They have, however, not frightened Turkey or influenced to make a departure in policy more to the liking of Rome or Berlin. Ankara is held as giving keen attention to the development of understanding with Russia.

Aryan League Takes Decision To Start

NEW DELHI, June 4

It is understood that Sholapur will have a first grade D.A.V. College to meet the requirements of Hyderabad students, provided the Bombay University gives necessary permission.

This move has been started by the International Aryan League after considering the difficulties of Hyderabad students, who have left the Osmania University as a protest against the ban on "Vande Matram" Song.

The D.A. V. College Committee, Lahore, has sanctioned Rs. 2,00,000 intially for the purpose, and financial support from all sides is expected.

It is understood that one object of the recent visit to Lahore of Mr. Ghanshyam Singh Gupta, President of the International Aryan League, was to apprise the D.A.V. College Committee with the importance of the problem.

If started, this college will be the first D.A.V. College in South India.—United Press.

Mischief Mongers Carry Day At Calcutta

Bengal Jamiat-ul-Ulema Conference Session "Dissolved"

CALCUTTA, June 4.

Due to continuous shouting for about two hours the proceedings of the second day's session of the Bengal Jamait-ul-Ulema Conference were held up and the police had to declare the meeting dissolved and cleared the hall.

HALL OCCUPIED

The Conference was due to be held at the University Institute Hall at 5 p.m. under the Presidentship of Maulana Obeidullah Sindhi. But from about 4-30 p.m. several hundreds of men, who were opposed to the Conference and had occupied the Hall, continued shouting "Muslim League Zindabad", "Boycott Congressite Muslims" and other slogans. All attempts to pacify this section of the crowd having failed, the Deputy Commissioner of Police, who was already inside the hall with a number of policemen, in view of a similar incident yesterday, ordered the meeting to be dissolved and cleared the Hall in view of apprehension of a breach of the peace.

Prof. Abdur Rahim, Chairman of the Reception Committee, told the Press that he did not know under what law could the Deputy Commissioner of Police dissolve the meeting and clear the Hall, but since the police had taken that step he saw no point in trying to continue the proceedings and, therefore, requested all the delegates, including guests from other Provinces, to leave the Hall quietly.—A. MAJDIA TRAIN DISASTER ECHO

Numerous Applications For Claims

CALCUTTA, June 3.

It is understood that all the persons injured in the Majdia train disaster, except one, have fully recovered now. Full facilities, including free railway pass, were given to the relatives of the injured persons to see them in hospital.

As regards compensations and claims, it is understood the authorities are now busy considering the numerous applications that have been received. Every case is being considered on its individual merits. A special department has been functioning exclusively for this purpose.—United Press.

MYSORE GOVT.'S LABOUR POLICY

MYSORE, June 3.

The declaration that the Government of Mysore could not acquiesce in any sort of outside interference with its own employees in their various Industrial establishments was made by the First Member of Council in winding up the debate on a motion brought forward in the Mysore Assembly to-day with regard to recent Labour agitation in the State concerns.

The Hon. Member said that: "Some of the largest industrial establishments in Mysore are of the Government which treat its employees with all consideration which Government extends to other public services. Government cannot put up with indiscipline in any branch of public service, skilled or unskilled or manual Labour. Government could not acquiesce in any sort of outside interference in matters concerning its relations with its own employees."—United Press.

BASIS OF MOMIN MOVEMENT

CALCUTTA, June 3.

A mass meeting of the Momins was held at Murlibagan yesterday with Mr. Abdul Qualyum Ansari, President of the Bihar Provincial Jamiat-ul-Momineen, in the chair. Over 5,000 Momins attended.

In the course of his speech, Mr. Ansari said that the Momin Movement was in reality a movement for the uplift and amelioration of the poor and down-trodden people numbering millions who had been neglected so far. He further said that strangely enough, the opposition to this movement came from those who claimed to be the sole champions of the rights of Muslims. That, Mr. Ansari remarked, had opened the eyes of poor Momins who now knew how these so-called champions of Muslim rights had for their own gains and selfish interests so long been exploiting the poor Muslims.—United Press.

It will be recalled that the Badrinath Temple Bill was sponsored by him and awaits assent of His Excellency.

In replying to enquiries made by the "United Press" as to what steps the Ministry would take if assent was withheld, he said: "I don't know." He left for Benares to-day.—United Press.

Election To Farrukhabad Congress Committee Postponed

(From Our Correspondent)

FATEHGARH, May 31.

A grand District 'Mushaira' was held at Fatehgarh last evening under the management of Messrs. Kailash Behari 'Wahid' and Rajendra Bahadur, which was very largely attended.

The poems of Mr. Mauj and Mr. Wahid were well appreciated. The special feature of the 'Mushaira' was that men of both the communities actively co-operated to make it a success.

Mr. Rains, Instructor of the Cottage Industry, (Basket Making) which was recently started in this district under the Rural Development Scheme exhibited his products at this Mushaira and they were much liked by all for their quality, cheapness and beauty.

FREQUENT FAILURE OF ELECTRICITY

Failure of electric current has become almost a constant feature of the Fatehgarh Power House. The current has been failing from November 1938 and the people are greatly inconvenienced. Till now all representation to the authorities and the U.P. Government have proved futile. In the last week the current failed for no less than three times, the failure of energy lasting from about 1 to 8 hours.

It is learnt that the matter has again been brought to the notice of the District Magistrate Mr. D. J. K. Coghill who is considering it.

ELECTION

The following 12 members have been declared elected unopposed to the Fatehgarh Congress Ward Committee:—

1. Pt. Bapin Behari Shukla. 2. Mr. Abdul Jalil. 3. Mr. Jwala Prasad. 4. Mr. Bansi Dhare. 5. Mr. Shri Ram. 6. Pt. Shiva Saran Lal. 7. Pt. Nirmala Saran. 8. Pt. Shyam Behari Lal. 9. Mr. Durga Prasad. 10. Mrs. Shiva Saran Lal. 11 Mr. Sita Ram. 12 Mr. Brij Bhushan Hajela

Eight more members are yet to be elected for which nomination papers have not yet been received.

FARRUKHABAD ELECTION POSTPONED

The election of the Farrukhabad Town Congress Committee has been indefinitely postponed, according to the decision of the Suba Adalat of the Provincial Congress Committee on complaints against Messrs. Ram Narain Azad and Phul Chand (who have been previously convicted) who had filed their nomination papers. As a consequence of this the election of the office-bearers of the Farrukhabad District Congress Committee, which was to be held on the 24th May, 1939 has also been indefinitely postponed.

Why Prohibition?

To The Editor of "The Chronicle"

Sir,—Mr. B. F. Bharucha has given reply to a "Prohibitionist's" letter. What I am wondering about is that an ex-General Secretary of the Congress, a Khadi hawker, a non-communal minded public worker should easily fall a prey to the mischievous propaganda carried on by the vested interests. It is really a painful task for me to reply to such a public worker.

As regards his first point I should like to remind Mr. Bharucha of the old days when liquor shops were picketed. The writer of this letter himself then merely a boy, was one of the picketers of liquor shops Before Khadi and Charka became popular, the Prohibition movement was launched It does not behove a responsible person like Mr. Bharucha to forget that the resolutions of the Karachi Congress governed the Congress programme and its election manifesto, and these resolutions were distributed with the manifesto at the time of the elections.

I do not know why Mr. Bharucha is defending the cause of Bombay's liquor dealers. If Prohibition is to be made a success there is no fun in playing with it. Gradual introduction of Prohibition allows so many loopholes which can be taken advantage of. I do not think the ex-General Secretary of the Congress wants Prohibition to be a farce. When Prohibition was accepted as one of the chief items in the Congress programme in pre-C. D. and C. D. days, it is not fair to say now that Prohibition is being rushed. Congress has stood for complete Prohibition for the last so many years, and it is but natural that it should implement its promises immediately it has the power to do so.

I should like to remind Mr. Bharucha that Prohibition is not a thing which is thrust upon an unwilling party. The public has been demanding it for long. In 1849-50 the then Government was asked by petitioners from Gujarat and Maharashtra to introduce Prohibition forthwith. Even the "Times of India" which is to-day carrying on a mischievous propaganda supported Prohibition. In Surat there was a temperance association consisting of members from all communities, even members from his own community. The "Parhejgar Mandal" was carrying on a systematic propaganda through their periodical in Gujarati in those days when newspapers were very rare.

To-day the people from different Talukas and Districts are pressing the Government to introduce Prohibition in their Districts. Government is accused of going too slow with its policy. Mr. Bharucha should understand that a Congress Government cannot remain quiet in the face of such demands merely because Prohibition has not found a place in the election manifesto.

I should like to clarify one point. Despite his nationalist views, Mr. Bharucha cannot help being influenced by the fact that he is a Parsi. It is a human weakness. But ultimately one has to endeavour to get over this weakness and look to larger interests. It is an accident and that, too, an unfortunate accident, that members of a generous and philanthropic community should be engaged in an immoral and unsocial traffic. The larger interests demand that this traffic should cease to exist. If Government intends suppressing it, the vested interests with a view to divert the attention of public from the main issue, will try to fan communal prejudices. As these vested interests do not find any moral justification for their carrying the immoral traffic they indulge in such things. In such a foggy atmosphere it is the bounden duty of "non-communal minded" public workers like Mr. Bharucha to give their brethren a correct lead. I am extremely pained to see that Mr. Bharucha has failed in his duty.

I need not tell Mr. Bharucha about the manner in which Gandhiji is trying to expiate the sins committed by caste-Hindus in creating and maintaining untouchability. Is it not high time that some Parsi of Mr. Bharucha's standing should come forward to expiate the social sins that Parsi vested interests have been and are committing?

Mr. Bharucha has referred to some of the well-known economists; but I should like to know from him whether he is aware that the Excise revenue which is derived from the sale of intoxicants is the most unjust of all the taxes according to the canons of public finance. The bulk of the persons who contribute to it, numerically is too small to bear its incidence, and, moreover, it comes from the poorer classes. These unfortunate victims of drink are made responsible to pay about one-third of the total revenue. Although the excise duty is meant to be prohibitory, it does not minimise the loss that the poor victims of mismanagement in public finance have to suffer. And what do they get in return? It is too obvious to be told. How can a Government which calls itself pledged to bettering the moral and economic conditions of the masses justify maintaining such an unjust tax?

To-day the main incidence of taxation falls on the masses. If Government is to be run on modern lines and if justice is to be done to tax-payers, this thing must cease to exist. To-day's incidence should be shifted on to those who can bear it.

The Government of Bombay wants to do away with the unjust Excise revenue and also shift the incidence of taxation. The Property Tax and Sales Tax. I am sure, serve this double purpose.

It is but natural that those persons who have enjoyed freedom from taxation resent being asked to lose that freedom. But then the Government is also to be run and it cannot, and can never hope to, satisfy all.—Yours, etc.

"ANOTHER PROHIBITIONIST".

Liquor Advertisements

To The Editor of "The Chronicle"

Sir,—Section 42 E of the Bombay Abkari (Amendment) Act 1939 prohibits advertisements commending, etc., the use of any intoxicant. The term "intoxicant" is nowhere clearly defined This will cause great confusion and worry to the people.

Similarly according to the Government notification in the Revenue department dated 18th May 1939 advertisements regarding intoxicants are to be prohibited after the 31st July 1939 and all matters other than advertisements are to be prohibited after the 15th May 1939. Here, again, there is great scope for misunderstanding and confusion.

It will be better if the terms "intoxicants" "advertisements" and "other matters" are clearly defined by the Government rather than leaving the interpretation to the common sense of the public.—Yours, etc.

Community Centres Plea For Local Action

To The Editor of "The Chronicle"

Sir,—Whilst the statesman is silently and laboriously piling brick upon brick in building the House in which India shall live, and the politician, perched on a stone near by, is commenting on the clumsiness of the workman, may not men and women who are neither politicians nor statesmen, but only citizens, lend a hand in mixing the earth from which the bricks shall be made? In other words, may not the ordinary citizen also contribute his little quota to building up Indian nationhood?

The best and most suitable field for any such activity on the part of the citizen, appears to be the social field. It is best suited to develop a community spirit. It possesses certain special advantages. It has an ancient inherited general cultural underground. It has the same or similar fundamentals and basic ideals, such as brotherhood and humanity. Any efforts, therefore, made in the social field are more likely to be beneficial than any other kind of approach.

I therefore plead for the formation throughout India, and in all the cities in particular, of community centres and community associations. I had better explain at once what is meant by a community group or association. A community association is a voluntary society, formed on the basis of neighbourhood, and intended to promote the well-being—the physical, the cultural, and the general social well-being—of a Neighbourhood. Its object is to promote the well-being of the community resident in that district, by associating the local authorities, voluntary organisations, and residents in a common effort to further health, to advance education, and to foster a community spirit in that district.

It will be found that in any given area in large cities, Hindus, Mahomedans, Parsees, Jains, Christians, all live together within the boundaries of a small territorial area. The physical, cultural and general social needs of all the inhabitants within that area are the same. And yet, there exists no avenue through which they can give expression to their sense and spirit of community. I suggest that systematic efforts should be made to encourage all the residents of particular areas to combine and form themselves into healthy organisations of democracy.

A noteworthy feature of modern economic life is the diversity of caste, creed and occupations existing in any given territorial area. This fact ought to prove an advantage in the work of transforming the communal spirit into the community spirit. The very diversity above referred to existing in a given area ought to prove a deterrent and discouraging factor in any attempt to form a communal group in that area. In fact, the greater the diversity of caste, creed and occupation in a given territorial area, the greater the charm of a community group in that area.

There is no doubt that community centres and associations can make vital contributions in a wide variety of fields touching almost every phase of modern life.

Diverse factors of civic life would be appropriate for consideration at a Community Centre. Every citizen, whatever his station in life or caste, colour or creed, is interested in matters relating, e.g., to public health, food, hospitals, social security, parks, recreation, child health, adult education, labour, police, crime prevention, public works and personal administration. Every one is similarly interested in fire protection, water supply and good roads. A large number of persons is interested in matters relating to strikes, in prison reform and in the assessment and collection of Income Tax, Municipal rates and other modes of taxation, in the collection procedure and tax administration generally. Members of trade, commerce and the professions and all citizen groups are interested in the improvement of Government and public administration, promoting government efficiency and economy and also promoting social welfare legislation. Talks and discussions regarding these and similar other subjects between fellow citizens can help to establish sympathy understanding and fellowship.

Through their leadership and constructive activities, community centres in one or other of their manifold aspects, can, being in constant touch with current problems within their district, profoundly influence the conduct of public affairs and the men and women engaged in them.

A community association would be a lesson in democracy. It manages itself by its own officers, it would finance for itself the expenses of its own management. It would provide common meeting grounds for study-circles, physical recreation and social contacts. It may have debates, a library and classes in social problems. It may concern itself with the solution of the beggar problem and the needs of the unemployed—in a word, it may become a focus of general interest in the lives of all its members.

A community association has its use not only in time of peace but also of war. It would help to maintain the public moral by its activities. It would prove a stabilising factor during times of stress. It would be able to provide, as a centre of experience and leadership, a guidance which would be invaluable to distracted and nerve-racked persons in times of stress.

I trust that sufficient has been said to prove the value of opening community centres throughout our land. They will be very helpful in teaching all men and women to take a corporate part in the ruling of themselves. They will in due time form the kernal of corporate life. It may be hoped that in due time they may thrust forth tendrils in the fields of communal politics.

The idea of forming centres is no doubt a Western idea. Yet, it need not therefore be banished. The Youth Movement is also a Western Idea. Yet, see how it succeeded in remaking Turkey in the course of a few years and how, it is making its way in India.

I have every hope that the formation of Community Centres as I have above indicated, will not only help to remove the morbid emphasis now being laid on communalism, it will, in the end, create homogeneity out of diversity; unity out of disunity; trust out of distrust; and peace out of war.—Yours, etc.,

Tragic Plight Of Colliery Workers

T. U. C. Chief's Appeal To Congress President

CALCUTTA, June 3.

Dr. Suresh Chandra Banerji, President of the All-India Trade Union Congress, in a statement to the Press, appeals to Rashtrapati Rajendra Prasad to intervene for the redress of grievances of the Giridih coal workers.

Dr. Banerji has received a communication from the Giridih Coal Workers' Union, which complains that though mica is a monopoly industry of the district bringing super-profit to the capitalists, the workers' wages have gone down by more than 50 per cent. during the last ten or twelve years. The letter also alleges illegal exactions and systematic ill-treatment in the factories.

ARRESTS IN FEBRUARY

After referring to the mica factory strike in December, 1938, the letter recalls police raids in the Union office and subsequent arrests. It says: "On 21st February, just on the eve of the arrival of the Bihar Labour Enquiry Committee, Patnayak, Gupta and Singh were sent to jail for one year under Section 107 and placed in "C" class like ordinary prisoners. Next day about 10,000 Mica and coal workers demonstrated against the conviction, a protest meeting was held and hartal observed in the bazar. Again Section 144 was served on about 12 workers and Police Act promulgated in the town. The securities given by the workers for their leaders were not accepted.

POLICE RAID

"On the 29th April, the general election of the Town Congress Committee was held and labourers being in majority captured the Congress Committee. At midnight the police raided the Union office and lodged a case against 170 men of the Union.

"In the second week of May, the E. I. Ry. Colliery Superintendent retrenched about 200 workers with a short notice, 13 of whom were arrested by the police." The letter adds: "The Colliery Superintendent, it is stated, is contemplating another reduction of 150 men."

Commenting on this letter, Dr. Banerji says: "I have no reason to doubt its veracity hence I am sending it to the Press. I would request the Congress President, Sj. Rajendra Prasad and also the Ministers of Bihar to kindly go into the matter and see that the trade union workers may enjoy full civic rights in the day-to-day execution of their duties, and also the legitimate grievances of the labourers are redressed."—United Press.

Move For Shia-Sunni Compromise

LUCKNOW, June 3.

It is understood that local Shia leaders are seriously considering the desirability of suspending the 'Tabarra' agitation for the time being in response to the appeal made from Simla and also by Maulana Abul Kalam Azad. Prominent members of the community held a meeting this noon but nothing was finally decided today.

Meanwhile talks for an honourable Shia-Sunni compromise are going on. Responsible Sunni leaders contend that they are always eager for an honourable compromise with Shias. According to them the only difference between the Shias and Sunnis is the annual taking out of the 'Madhe Sahaba' procession while the Shias take out their religious processions almost every day. They declare that they agree even to forego their established civil rights for the sake of Shia-Sunni unity, provided Shias don't take out any procession except 'Tazias' and 'Alams' on 'Shra' and 'Chelum' days. Further the Sunnis want that there should be no ban on the recital of the praises of the companions of the prophets at any place and time and that they should be entitled to hold meetings to praising their heroes.

The Sunnis also want that the Shias should announce that they have committed a blunder in launching the 'Tabarra' agitation and delete that portion of the 'Azan' which alleges that only Ali was the right Caliph of the Prophet Mohamed and not others.—United Press.

OUR DISTINGUISHED STAFF.

It undertakes to impart sound general education paying individual care and attention to all. It is the only institution capable of bringing good results. It can properly meet the educational requirements. It has on its staff distinguished members who have the capacity to impart knowledge to meet the educational requirements. You will be interested to read what our students say about our teachers. Our mathematics teacher is a "wonderful teacher," says Miss Khambatta. "The credit of our success lies in our efficient staff members," says Mr. D. D. Deshpande. "Exactly the same questions occurred in the exam.", says Mr. E. A. Bava; and there is a continuous stream of letters received from the students in praise of our staff.

We have fortunately both, European and Indian, teachers on the Staff, who have made a deep study of these subjects. We always prefer to appoint Specialists on the Staff.

BOMBAY MATRICULATION RESULTS ARE DISAPPOINTING. SENIOR CAMBRIDGE RESULTS ARE ENCOURAGING.

Large Cotton Textile Sales In U. S. A.

BOMBAY SELLING IN N. Y. ON NARROW PARITY

Spot House Covering In July Option

Bombay, June 3.

There was some Bombay selling on the New York cotton Exchange on Friday on narrower parity, with the market interested in textile sales estimated equalling four weeks' production in the past five days.

The market opened very steady. There was trade price fixing for nears against larger textile sales. Hedging, liquidation and foreign selling also developed. Finally Spot Houses covering appeared with the session closing steady.

TEXTILE SALES.

"Cotton gray goods prices have advanced by 1/8 cent. following the broad buying movement which has been under way for the past seven days with sales of over 85,000,000 yards or about onethird of reported mill stocks. Threats of mill curtailment, Mr. Wallace's recent advocacy of the continuance of cotton loan and impending Government purchases of forty million yards, all helped to revive the lagging demand. With mill stocks dwindling and demand continuing brisk, further price increases would not be a surprise."

NEW YORK MARKET

At the opening July was quoted 2 points up at 8.91 and declined to 8.89 which was the lowest level. Later on there was improved buying and July advanced to 8.97 which was the highest level. Distant months were quiet and the market closed at a rise of 8 points to a decline of 3 points. Spot cotton prices advanced 8 points at 9.78c per lb.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET

The New Orleans cotton market was fairly steady with a slightly improved buying and closed at a rise of 9 points to 2 points down. Spot cotton prices closed unchanged at 9.40c. per lb.

The Liverpool cotton market was entirely closed. The Alexandria cotton market was quietly steady and Sakels futures closed 3 points up while Ashmouni futures closed 3 to 12 points up.

FARM LEGISLATION

"Ideas of an export subsidy revived over the week-end, when the Senate Agricultural Sub-committee and the Senate Appropriation Committee approved increased appropriations for parity payments and domestic and export subsidies, and later the Senate's passage of the actual measure to [illegible]ed funds had a stimulating effect on the market, prices hardening under a buying movement in which foreign interests participated, the effect being particularly noticeable in new crop months. State "M.G."

The tight contract situation in near months has continued a feature of the market, values stiffening under persistent mill price-fixing and the reserve of sellers in view of the unlikelihood of any early release of cotton from the loan. The firmness of the stock market and a more confident view of the foreign political situation contributed to the advance, though later setback were caused by the placing of hedges against increased loan repossessions in the south-east.

COTTON INDUSTRY.

Meanwhile all sections of the domestic cotton industry continued vigorous opposition to export subsidies, claiming that the effect would be ruinous. Worth Street is still in the doldrums, with traders generally avoiding fresh commitments until Washington legislative problems are clarified. Mills continue to absorb cotton accumulating stocks of goods because replacement costs will rise in July, when the new wage scale becomes effective.

PROFESSIONAL SELLING

A reactionary movement set in, local professionals selling on the belief that the advance had weakened the technical position, and there was also some selling pressure from New Orleans and on foreign account. Steady support from the trade, however, and a subsidence of selling halted the decline. Nevertheless, undertainty about crop legislation has been increased by the fact that President Roosevelt joined Mr. Morganthau, Secretary of the Treasury, in criticising the Senate's action in increasing agricultural appropriations without providing the additional revenue measures.

Weather in the cotton belt has been mostly cool, except in the extreme west and north-western portions. There was a considerable fall of rain in the central and eastern sections, but showers were spotted and light in the west, where moisture is still needed.'

Tata Steel Shares Steady

MILL SHARES IMPROVE ON BETTER DEMAND

Cement Quiet And Steamer Steady

BOMBAY: June 3.

The local Share Bazar was fairly steady to-day with a good turnover. There was increased buying and Steel shares were again pushed up to a new high level, but later on there was increased realising which erased a portion of the improvement, but the tone of the market was steady.

It seems that after the recent improvement the market is consolidating the technical situation. The undertone of the market was good and Steel shares closed at a small rise.

Cotton Mill shares were also steady and Bombay Steams once again received support from interested parties.

Yesterday the Wall-Street Market was steady and the turnover was limited. U. S. Steel shares closed 3/8 up at dols. 48-1/2 and Anaconda Coppers gained 1/8 at dols. 43-7/8, while General Motors improved 5/8 at dols. 43-7/8.

Tata Steel Dfds. opened at Rs. 1,385 and steadily advanced to Rs. 1,410 and finally closed at Rs. 1,397. Ordinary shares also after opening at Rs. 291 declined to Rs. 290 and closed at Rs. 293. Bombay Dyeing shares opened at Rs. 767 and advanced to Rs. 773. Bombay Steams opened at Rs. 234 and closed at Rs. 236. Cement shares were quiet.

Cabinet Crisis Looms Ahead In U P.

Delay In Governor's Assent To Badrinath Temple Bill: Sabotage Suspect

LUCKNOW, June 3.

A serious situation which may lead to a Cabinet crisis is likely to arise, if the assent to the Badrinath Temple Bill which has been reserved by the Governor is further delayed.

Congress circles here view with concern that one of the first attempts of the Congress Ministry to reform institutions of religious and social importance is being sabotaged.

It will be recalled that in anticipation of the Governor's assent to the Bill a special officer was sent to Badrinath to take charge of the management of the temple pending the formation of a regular managing committee. Now he has been called back to Lucknow.

In the meantime, the Governor referred the Bill to H. E. the Viceroy for his assent, apparently on the ground that the Tehri State is involved in it. It is stated that the Tehri Durbar is trying to influence the Central Government in order that its predominant voice in the management of the temple which is sought to be cut short by the Bill may continue.

In this connection, it may be stated that the U. P. Government, before bringing the Bill, entered into talks with the Tehri Durbar and, on certain representations made by the latter, effected some changes in the said Bill. Now political circles feel that having got the provisions of the Bill modified according to their wishes, the Tehri Durbar is not justified in putting obstacles in the enactment of the measure It is further felt that any delay in the assent would make the Bill practically ineffective for the current year.

The Bill having been passed by both the Houses almost unanimously and the Tehri Durbar also having given its tacit approval to it, the delay in its assent, according to informed circles, is inexplicable. If there is any hitch in putting the Bill on the Statute Book, a crisis may arise, the Congress circles having taken a very serious view of the matter. —United Press.

Develop Nationalism On Lines Of Europe

Maulana Obeidulla Appreciates Mahatma's Non-Violence Programme But Disagrees With His Philosophy

CALCUTTA, June 3

A plea for developing nationalism on the lines of Europe was made by Hazrat Maulana Obeidulla Sindhi in his presidential address to the "Jamiat-ul-Ulema" Conference, which was opened here this afternoon, in the Calcutta University Institute Hall. He deeply appreciated Mr. Gandhi's programme of non-violence, but expressed disagreement with his philosophy.

The Maulana said that he wished to tell his countrymen that they could not remain unaffected by the world-wide revolution. It was impossible. He could not serve them better than by putting before them the methods which might give them the greatest possible benefit in the present world struggle. If India would be saved from the baneful effects of that struggle, it should try to develop nationalism on the lines of Europe.

Continuing, the speaker said that the old Indian culture, called the Hindu culture, and the modern Indian culture," which was called the Islamic culture, both represented more or less, two religious schools.. But present-day European nationalism knew no religion. It was mainly based on philosophy and science. Therefore, if India were in capable of understanding this revolution, it would get nothing but defeat and loss in the long run.

This object in the Maulana's opinion, could never be attained unless the Indian National Congress were made the centre of all political activities of India. He regretted that 90 per cent. of his friends were members of the Muslim League and that they expected the world to recognise that the League was equal to the Congress, they forgot that, since the British Government had mentioned the Indian National Congress in the introduction of the Minto-Morley Reforms, the world knew the Congress as second only to the Government of India. The Khilafat and the non-co-operation movements had further enhanced the prestige of the Congress.

The Maulana would therefore, without decrying the motives of his League friends, say that there was only an unattainable dream. He would not allow his countrymen to remain ignorant any more. He would therefore, strongly urge the leaders of the National Congress to have as their ideal the promotion of European nationalism and make economic progress the basis of independence. They should, however, not try to accept as a national programme the innate characteristics and reactionary ideals of the great philosopher of this country, Mr. Gandhi.

The Speaker deeply appreciated the political programme of non-violence, but he was not completely in agreement with Mr. Gandhi's natural bent of mind or his philosophy. This was the reason, so far as he could fathom it, why the late Maulana Shaukat Ali seceded from the national movement and Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose and his followers were disgruntled.

The Maulana advised the "Jamiat-ul-Ulema" to be turned into a premier revolutionary body. It would be necessary for them to give up the habit of following each and every exponent of Islam. They should also not lend their ears to any "non-revolutionary divine." Likewise, they should not place their faith in any revolutionary divine unless his mode of life was proved to be quite blameless.—A. P.

STORY OF PEACE MISSION TO JINNAH

Delhi Provincial Muslim League President Charges Jaipur Authorities With Change Of Front

DELHI, (By Mail).

Sheikh Wahiduddin Ahmed, President, Provincial Muslim League, Delhi, has issued the following statement:—

During the last week of April, 1939, a gentleman known as Wajid Ali Shah, approached prominent members of the Delhi Provincial Muslim League on behalf of the Inspector General of Police, Jaipur, Mr. Young, and expressed a desire on behalf of the Jaipur State to start negotiations for the settlement of Jaipur Muslim demands. He also stated that the Jaipur Durbar did not want the matter to be prolonged and was prepared to concede their demands as far as possible. On various occasions he discussed the matter in detail, and gave an idea of the Jaipur Durbar's attitude on crucial questions.

LEAGUE MEMBER FOR JAIPUR

The Provincial Muslim League authorities, however, before taking any step in the matter asked Sheikh Shujaul Haq, a prominent member of the Provincial Muslim League and a member of the All-India Muslim League Council, to proceed to Jaipur in his private capacity to verify the correctness of the statements and representations of the gentleman named above. Accordingly, he reached Jaipur on the morning of the 10th May 1939 and got in touch with Mr. Young, who admitted that the above named gentleman was sent by him and suggested that he should further discuss the matter with the Prime Minister. An interview was arranged and Sheikh Shujaul Haq discussed the matter in detail with the Prime Minister, and found that the statements of Mr. Wajid Ali Shah were correct to a great extent, and the Prime Minister was anxious to get the matter settled through the Muslim League. In fact, the Prime Minister wanted to get the matter settled immediately then and there, but Sheikh Shujaul Haq rightly told him that the matter could only be settled by Mr. Jinnah, President of the All-India Muslim League, and that he would communicate to Mr. Jinnah the result of his talk with the Prime Minister.

On this the Prime Minister directed Sheikh Shujaul Haq to see Mr. Abdul Aziz, Revenue Minister. Sheikh Shujaul Haq saw that gentleman, and after explaining the whole position, reiterated before him the demands of the Jaipur Muslims. The Revenue Minister showed his keenness to have the matter settled, and promised to take early steps in the matter. Consequently the Revenue Minister sent Mr. Abdul Salam, Judicial Officer, to Delhi for negotiations as the representative of the Jaipur Durbar. He reached here on the morning of the 14th May 1939 and got in touch with the Provincial Muslim League authorities. He represented himself the authorised representative of the Jaipur Durbar, and expressed the desire to negotiate with them for the settlement of the Jaipur Muslim demands. As he had no written authority, it was thought desirable to get in confirmed by the Prime Minister, and so the following telegram was sent to him:

to him:

"Abdulsalam Judicial Officer arrived to-day. Negotiating on behalf of State, we want your confirmation."

The following reply was received from the Prime Minister:

"State has instructed Abdul Aziz to deal with case, and I understand he has sent Abdul Salam to Delhi."

On receipt of the above telegram, Mr. Abdul Salam discussed the problem with the Provincial Muslim League authorities. They advised him to proceed to Bombay and discuss the matter with Mr. Jinnah. He agreed to this proposal, but requested that some prominent member of the Provincial Muslim League may also proceed to Bombay in order to facilitate negotiations with Mr. Jinnah.

MISSION TO JINNAH

At his request, and in order to apprise Mr. Jinnah of all the facts, K. S. Habibul Rahman, Municipal Commissioner, and Sheikh Shujaul Haq proceeded to Bombay on the morning of the 16th May, 1939, but to their great astonishment, Mr. Abdul Salam, who also left for Bombay by the same train, informed that at the station of Savai Madhopur that he had been recalled by the Revenue Minister to Jaipur, and he was accordingly not proceeding to Bombay to see Mr. Jinnah as was originally arranged. These gentlemen, upon learning this, sent the following telegram to the Prime Minister of Jaipur from Shamgarh railway station:—

"Abdul Salam, representative of State has been called back to Jaipur from his way while he was proceeding to Bombay to see Mr. Jinnah. We also left for Bombay at Abdul Salam's request. Please inform if somebody else is coming to Bombay in his place or telling on phone to Mr. Jinnah or writing on address care of Mohammed Yoosuf, Amin Chambers, Byculla, Bombay. Please wire.

They got the following telegram from the Prime Minister in reply:—

"No State representative coming to Bombay. State has no objection if Mohajereen seeking advice in Bombay. Jaipur Muslims can however always approach State any time.

It is difficult to understand this sudden change in the attitude of the Prime Minister, as it was his own desire to get the matter settled amicably thrpugh the help and influence of the Muslim League authorities, before His Highness left India.

Mr. K. S. Habibur Rahman and Sheikh Shujaul Haq have placed all the facts before Mr. Jinnah in Bombay.

From this sudden and inexplicable change in the attitude of the Jaipur Authorities, it is evident that they are not prepared or willing to do even bare justice to the Musalmans of Jaipur and have an honourable settlement.

I am issuing this statement so that the people may know how matters stand with regard to the case of the Jaipur Mohajereen, and the attitude of the Jaipur Durbar in the matter.
